Ike Goes Back To Work

President Will Resume Normal Schedule Today

WASHINGTON, June 11 (P)—Smiling and joking, President Eisenhower went back to work for a while today—just about recovered, his doctors said, from a stomach upset caused by "a slight overindulgence in some types of food."

The President walked briskly and looked fine as he showed up unexpectedly in his White House office with few if any visible effects of the seizure which brought specialists to his bedside and caused him to cancel all appointments yesterday and today.

No News Conference

He is scheduled to resume his regular schedule of engagements tomorrow but will not hold the customary Wednesday news conference.

A medical bulletin prepared at 4 p.m., six hours after the President returned to his duties, said: "The President has almost completed his recovery from a mild stomach upset.

"For luncheon the President had prunes, fricasseed chicken, whole wheat toast and honey, and a glass of skim milk.

"His pulse is normal. His blood pressure is 124 over 80. His pulse is 74. His respiration is 80. His weight is 172½ pounds."

Figures Are Normal

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said all these figures are normal for the President—who, Hagerty said, lost no weight as a result of the stomach disorder which began to plague him Sunday night.

Hagerty also said Eisenhower's difficulty apparently stemmed, in the doctors' view, from eating more and richer food than his diet calls for.

He could have done this while viewing naval maneuvers off the Florida Coast late last week. The President has been on a diet since he suffered a heart attack in 1955.

His first back-in-business appointment will be a breakfast meeting with about 40 Republican House members tomorrow.

Train Smashes Truck, Killing Dozen Workers

ROCKY FORD, Colo., June 11 (P)—A 56-car Santa Fe freight train rammed into a light truck jammed with 17 farm laborers today, killing 12. Five others were injured, three of them seriously.

Victims were men, women and children. The highway patrol said it was Colorado's worst vehicular accident.

Two on the truck were treated for bruises and released from the hospital.

A scene of horror was spread 300 feet along the right of way just west of the Vroman siding. Vroman is a farm settlement about six miles from Rocky Ford, center of a melon, sugar beet and onion growing area in southeastern Colorado's Arkansas River Valley.

"Bodies, arms, legs and heads were strewn along the railroad right of way," said Jack Lee of radio station KBNZ at La Junta.

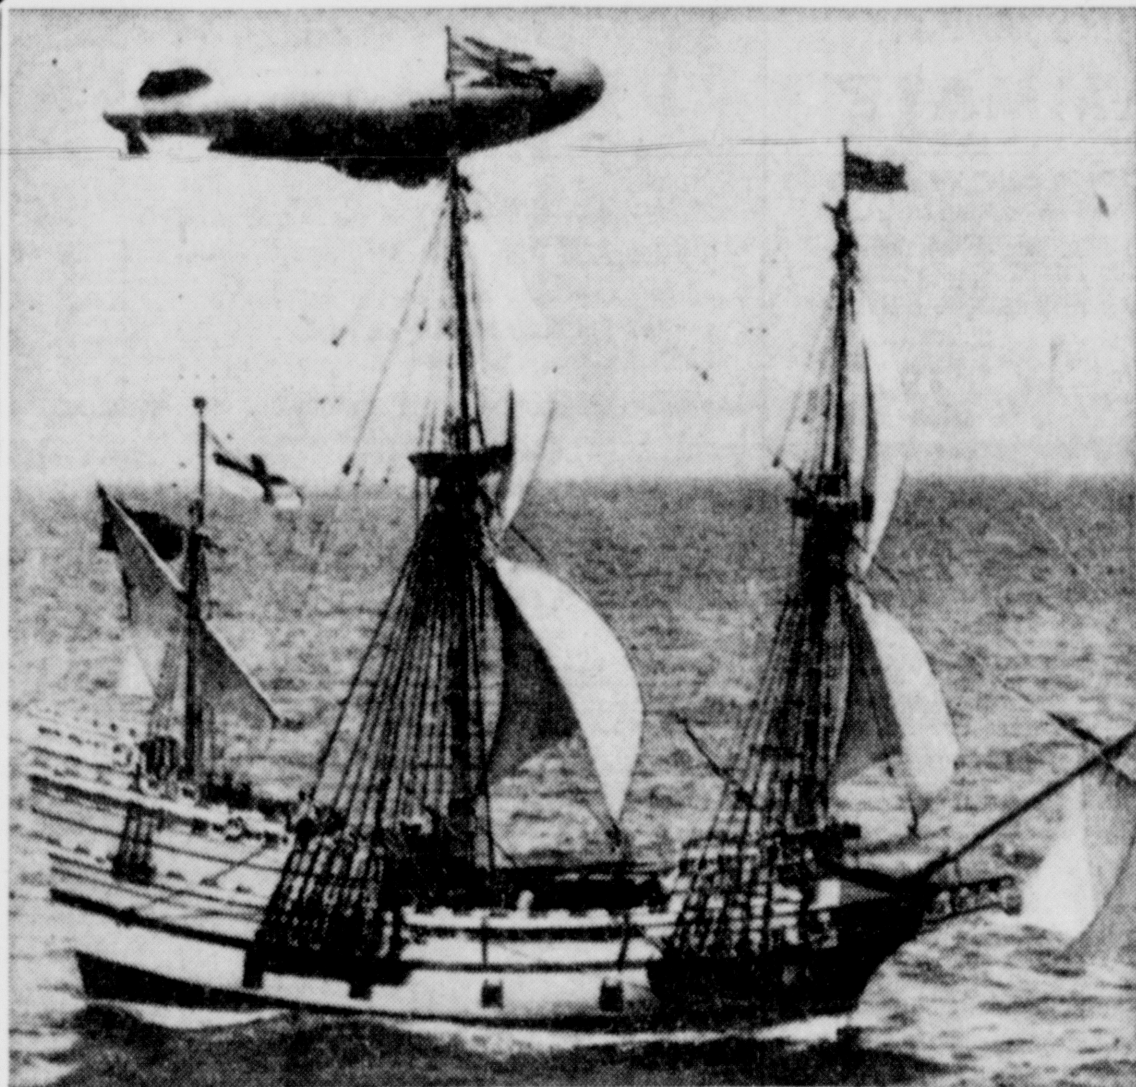

Others said many bodies were pulled under the train and dragged along the ties before it could be stopped.

Interference Denied

MOSCOW, June 11 (P)—The Soviet Union today denied in a note to Lebanon that it had any intention of interfering in Lebanon's internal affairs.

Navy Blimp Escorts Mayflower II

Plane Crew's Battle To Rescue Dangling Skytrooper In Vain

FT. BRAGG, N. C., June 11 (P)—Sweating crew members fought for more than three hours today to save the life of a paratrooper who dangled helplessly below their C123 troop carrier plane here.

The paratrooper apparently died in the air as an officer and two airmen pulled and tugged in their long futile effort to get him back into the plane. His parachute lines had tangled, holding him aloft.

When overheated engines finally forced the big plane to land, ground crews sprayed slippery foam along several hundred feet of runway to minimize the danger to the trapped trooper.

With the big ship only inches off the ground, crew members freed him by cutting loose the static line attached to the inside of the plane. He skidded 100 feet through the foam. Ground workers rushed up. He was dead. The Ft. Bragg Public Information Office said a preliminary medical examination indicated the victim possibly had

Hungary's Right To Demand Staff Cut Is Rejected

WASHINGTON, June 11 (P)—The United States today rejected Communist Hungary's right to demand a one-third cut in the American legation staff in Budapest. But it indicated the staff would be drastically reduced anyway because its duties have become "increasingly difficult" to carry out.

The State Department announced that a note was delivered to the Hungarian Foreign Ministry yesterday replying to Hungary's reduction demand of May 25.

Mayflower II Reaching For Provincetown, Mass.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., June 11 (P)—The master of Mayflower II radioed tonight he hoped to be in Provincetown by 10:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Horace Hallett, chairman of the Provincetown reception committee, said he got this message from Cmdr. Alan Villiers: "Am now sailing at good speed and hope welcoming ceremonies (at Provincetown) to be possible 10:30 a.m. tomorrow."

Hallett earlier had asked Villiers to try and time his arrival here at either 10:30 a.m. or 3 p.m. Villiers replied that either time would be agreeable to him.

At 6:45 p.m. the Coast Guard reported the Mayflower's position as 40.57.5 degrees north latitude, 69.13 degrees west, or about 95 miles south-southeast of Provincetown.

Meany Assails GE's Welfare Fund Handling

WASHINGTON, June 11 (P)—AFL-CIO President George Meany today cited to Congress four firms including the General Electric Co. which he said provide examples of "corruption and malfeasance" in employer handling of worker welfare funds.

Meany gave the testimony to a Senate Labor subcommittee in asking that proposed legislation, dealing with disclosure of information on welfare funds, be applied to management-operated as well as union-run or jointly administered employee benefit plans.

He said about 92 per cent of employees covered for health-welfare benefits and 86 per cent of employees covered for pensions are under plans run wholly by employers.

These facts alone, he said, are a good argument for including all plans under policing legislation, if employee benefits are to be fully protected. Some employer groups have been seeking exemption.

"It's not necessary," Meany said, "to rely upon an abstract assumption that corruption and malfeasance can conceivably occur in the operation of employer-administered plans. We know, within our own experience, that they have occurred."

Meany said General Electric has refused to submit its 35-million-dollar annual health insurance contract for employees to competitive bidding, but awarded it to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. He said two GE directors, including the board chairman, also are directors of Metropolitan.

He also said a GE pension trust agreement for employees has been sharply criticized by a commission of the Massachusetts Legislature because it relieved trustees in advance of responsibility.

Meany said GE's welfare fund practices are like those the National Assn. of Manufacturers has criticized in labor unions. He said GE's welfare fund handling "violates" the AFL-CIO's own code in many respects.

KANSAS CITY, June 11 (P)—The Weather Bureau reported tonight that a tornado had touched ground one mile north of Olathe, Kan., and was moving northeast toward Kansas City.

Senate Passes Bill Continuing Soil Bank Plan

WASHINGTON, June 11 (P)—The Senate gave the Eisenhower administration a partial victory tonight by passing a $3,668,972,157 farm money bill including continued and broad authority for the soil bank plan.

Passage was by a unanimous 78-0 vote.

The bulky appropriation measure now goes back to the House which had voted to kill off the generous acreage reserve payments of the soil bank after this year.

Senate action came after a 12-hour session and some sharp debate about the soil bank and multibillion dollar farm outlays.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) aided by Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, lost by a narrow 40-38 margin in an effort to keep in the bill a nationwide acreage limitation on payments under the conservation reserve part of the soil bank. The Senate Appropriations Committee had written the provision into the measure.

This was a rare victory for Republican senators aided by four farm-minded Democrats.

Russell also lost 2-1 an effort to cut back the 350-million-dollar ceiling on conservation reserve payments after his defeat in the first test.

An amendment by Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio) to knock out the acreage reserve program after this year, as the House did, was beaten down 71-7.

British Royal Couple Plans Five-Day Stay

Queen And Prince To Arrive Oct. 16, White House Says

WASHINGTON, June 11 (P)—Queen Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, will pay a five-day visit to the United States in October.

Ending months of speculation, the White House announced today that the British royal couple will arrive in this country from Canada on Oct. 16 and depart on Oct. 21.

Their American tour will take them to Jamestown, Va., where the first permanent English settlement in America was established in 1607, to Washington for a round of official functions, and to New York, their departure point.

Recent reports from London indicate that the decision to accept President Eisenhower's invitation for a state visit was a personal one made by the Queen after considering questions of high policy and her own inclinations.

It will be her first visit here since she ascended the throne in 1952.

Children Not Mentioned

As Princess Elizabeth, the Queen and her husband visited Washington in November, 1951. At that time President Truman asked them to come back soon and bring the children.

But apparently Prince Charles, 8, and Princess Anne, 6, will be staying home. There was no mention of them in the official announcements.

The White House announcement disclosed that the couple will begin their visit at Jamestown, where the 350th anniversary of settlement is being commemorated this year. They will fly from Canada to Jamestown and also take a plane to Washington.

They will arrive here in the late afternoon or evening of Oct. 16 and stay for three days.

Ike To Meet Them Oct.

The President will meet them at the airport. Sunday, Oct. 20, will be a day of rest for the royal pair. The White House said the Queen hopes to spend Oct. 21 on a sightseeing tour of New York, leaving for London that night.

In London, Buckingham Palace confirmed the long-rumored North American tour in an official announcement.

There has been a feeling on both sides of the Atlantic that a trip to the United States this year by the popular Queen and her husband might help restore Anglo-American relations to the cordiality which existed before the British military intervention in the Suez dispute.

Intercontinent Missile Blows Up In First Test

Onlookers Say Atlas Missile 'Flopped Over'

MISSILE TEST CENTER, Cape Canaveral, Fla., June 11 (P)—The first test of the intercontinental Atlas apparently miscarried today as an aerial explosion occurred soon after a spectacular missile launching.

Air Force officials said there were no casualties. They did not identify the missile as the 5,000-mile range Atlas, but sources which have been completely accurate in the past said afterward that it was the big ocean-spanning rocket.

Thousands of spectators saw a bright flash of orange flame as the missile streaked from its Cape Canaveral launching site and rose straight upward. There was an explosion in the sky, and something crashed into the sea. A terse Air Force announcement said the missile itself blew up.

No Casualties

"A missile was fired at the Air Force Missile Test Center's Cape Canaveral launching site today. Shortly after the launching the missile exploded," said Capt. Thomas Martin, deputy chief public information officer at nearby Patrick Air Force Base.

"There were no casualties. Valuable information was gained as a result of the test. Extensive flight testing of rocket missiles in support of the long-range ballistic missile program and others has been going on for some time. These tests will be continued. We have no additional information which can be released."

Onlookers closest to the launching said the missile began wobbling off course almost immediately after takeoff.

"Flopped Over" At Mile

Carl Hunziker of the Orlando (Fla.) Sentinel said the missile "flopped over" after reaching a height of about one mile, "hung in the air a few seconds, then plummeted downward."

Charles Gregory, a Titusville, Fla., photographer, said he had a clear view of the missile from a vantage point only 2½ miles from the launching ramp and believed that it was destroyed in the air.

When perfected, the Atlas, an Air Force weapon, is expected to be able to reach Moscow in 20 minutes. Components of the Atlas are being used in attempts to construct the "moon rocket," which scientists hope will circle the moon and photograph its dark side.

The French were venting their wrath over the bombing of a dance hall that killed eight Frenchmen and wounded 83 Sunday.

Dulles Denies U.S. Decision Made By Him

Attorneys For GI Given More Time To File Citations

WASHINGTON, June 11 (P)—Secretary of State Dulles said today he neither made nor was consulted about a U.S. decision to turn over GI William S. Girard to a Japanese court for trial.

But Dulles in an affidavit filed in federal court expressed no dissent to the arrangement.

Dulles' affidavit was submitted in answer to a subpoena for him to appear before federal Judge Joseph McGarraghy at a hearing on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to bring Girard back to the United States.

Day-long arguments over the legal move ended without a decision.

McGarraghy allowed Girard's attorneys until Friday to file additional citations supporting their contention that the 21-year-old soldier's constitutional rights to American justice are being "bar-gained away."

Speedy Ruling Promised

U.S. Atty. Oliver Gasch said he would probably stand on his briefs and oral arguments backing up the government decision to yield jurisdiction over Girard to Japan. McGarraghy promised a speedy ruling after Gasch said prompt settlement of the dispute is needed so the United States may "continue to look other nations in the eye and not be accused of renegeing on our obligations."

While McGarraghy set no date, his remarks indicated a ruling may come by the latter part of next week.

Dulles said in his affidavit he concluded, in agreement with Secretary of Defense Wilson, that it is of the "greatest importance" for the United States to "honor its commitments" with foreign nations.

He also declared the decision to allow the Japanese to prosecute Girard conformed with the "existing treaty and other agreements" between this country and Japan.

Subpoenas Quashed

Dulles said he had "no personal knowledge whatsoever" of events leading to Girard's detainment for the death of a Japanese woman last Jan. 30. For that reason, he said, it would be useless for him to testify.

McGarraghy granted a government motion to quash subpoenas issued for Dulles, Wilson and Secretary of the Army Brucker.

Girard, of Ottawa, Ill., is the central figure in an international uproar over the authority of a Japanese court to try an American soldier.

He was on guard at a range used by U.S. troops in Japan when Mrs. Naka Sakai and some other Japanese entered the area to collect pieces of scrap metal.

Mrs. Sakai was killed by an empty shell case which Girard allegedly fired from a grenade launcher.

Girard contends it was all an accident. He said he sent the casing aloft only to frighten the women away.

111 Warships Line Up For Today's Review

NORFOLK, Va., June 11 (P)—Warships of the United States and 17 friendly nations moved today into anchorage stations along a majestic 14-mile long double line for the nation's first inter-national naval review in half a century.

The 111 vessels—78 of them American—took positions in sun-dappled Hampton Roads for tomorrow's review by Defense Secretary Wilson and other top naval officials.

When the formal review gets under way tomorrow at 1 p.m., the reviewing ships will be led by the guided missile cruiser Canberra.

Planned Postal Cuts Outlined To Congress

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield today outlined to Congress a series of cuts in postal service which he plans to put into effect July 1 if his department isn't given more money.

The list of service curtailments which Summerfield presented to a House Appropriations subcommittee wasn't made public. But the list, submitted at a closed meeting, was reported to include: elimination of Saturday mail deliveries, closing of first and second class post offices on Saturdays, ending sale of money orders in first and second class post offices, closing of some 2,000 small fourth class post offices, a ban on starting any new service during the year, and restriction of star rural route delivery.

Summerfield is asking Congress to give his department an extra 149 million dollars for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Rep. Gary (D-Va.), subcommittee chairman, told reporters at the end of the day-long hearing that Summerfield had presented a detailed explanation of why he needed the extra money.

"I think we'll have to give him some of it," Gary said.

Gary said the subcommittee will start deciding on the funds Thursday or Friday. After that, Gary said, it would be up to the full Appropriations Committee to proceed with the matter.

House Delays Major Civil Rights Bill Test

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Supporters and opponents of President Eisenhower's civil rights legislation each scored today as the House began voting on amendments—but the major test was put off at least until Thursday.

The House defeated 127-88 a proposal by Rep. Gross (R-Iowa) to delete one of the main provisions of the bill—for a bipartisan commission to investigate reports of civil rights violations.

But later it voted 166-89 for an amendment by Rep. Loser (D-Tenn) that would limit the range within which the commission could subpoena witnesses. The provision written in would allow the commission to call persons to sessions only within their own states. The original bill would have allowed summoning witnesses anywhere within a federal court circuit—which may be a group of states.

West Va. Governor Shaken Up In Crash

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 11 (AP)—Gov. Underwood and his party were slightly shaken up but otherwise unhurt when their car was struck by another one last night on U.S. 21 about two miles north of Bluefield.

The accident occurred when Underwood, his wife and two other persons were returning from a Chamber of Commerce banquet at Bluefield where the governor spoke last night.

State Trooper L. E. Kessel of the Princeton detachment said that an approaching car swerved across the road and struck the governor's car. The driver, James W. Bowman, about 26 of Montcalm, was charged with failure to keep his vehicle under control.

Bonn Halves Troop Aid

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The State Department announced today that West Germany would contribute 77 million dollars to the United States for the maintenance of U.S. troops in Germany this year.

This sum is one-half the total of Germany's contribution for the costs of American troops in Germany last year.

Siamese Twins' Father Accused Of Nonsupport

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, June 11 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William N. Freeman, parents of Siamese twins born April 26 and successfully separated May 23, today welcomed home their boys, Johnny and Jimmy, from the hospital.

About the same time, the 43-year-old father learned that he has been charged with nonsupport of seven minor children by his former wife.

The charge was filed by Mrs. Georgia Freeman, Kittanning, Pa., who said she and Freeman were married Oct. 22 1935. A hearing was set for June 27 in Domestic Relations Court here.

Factory Jobs Continue Sag

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Employment rose by 917,000 last month to a total of 65,178,000 but factory jobs declined for the fifth month in a row, the Commerce and Labor departments reported today.

The gain reflected a normal spring increase in construction, farming and other outdoor work. Total employment showed no significant increase from a year ago.

Unemployment totaled 2,715,000 or 4 per cent of the labor force. This was 25,000 higher than the jobless total in April.

The sag in factory employment was somewhat greater than usual and was accompanied by a shortening of the average factory work week to 39.7 hours, the lowest level since September 1954.

Because of the elimination of overtime and shortened working schedules in the automobile, aircraft, machinery, glass and some other industries, the work week in durable goods plants has dropped by 1.7 hours since December.

The decline in factory jobs in the same period has been about twice normal. Some 16,685,000 persons had factory work in May, 122,000 fewer than in April.

Farm employment, which was abnormally low in April because of bad weather, made a partial recovery in May to a total of 6,200,000. This was still 500,000 below the total in May 1956.

33 U.S. Farmers Reach Moscow

MOSCOW, June 11 (AP)—Thirty-three American farmers, all but one from Illinois, arrived in Moscow today for a goodwill tour of Soviet farms.

After two days in the capital, they will put in a week looking over Russian farms in the Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev areas, exchanging ideas with Russian farmers and studying Soviet agricultural methods.

Les Davis, farm director of TV station WREX of Rockford, Ill., is the group's leader. The trip was arranged through the Soviet Travel Agency Intourist and sanctioned by the U. S. State Department.

Conservatives May Force New Canada Election

TORONTO, June 11 (AP)—Canada's victorious Conservatives looked today to the possibility of a new election to clinch control of the government.

Monday's election ended the Liberal party's 22-year rule but failed to give the Conservatives a clear majority.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, Liberal leader, is expected to resign after he meets with colleagues later this week. John Diefenbaker, Conservative chief, then can accept the responsibility of forming a new government. Or he can decline and force a new election by letting the Liberals lose a test vote in the House of Commons.

Some influential circles recommend the latter course. Because of the difficulty of carrying on without a solid majority, the Globe and Mail (Conservative) said in an editorial, "It most likely will be necessary to have another general election in the immediate future."

The Conservatives could attempt to rule for a while, with the cooperation of one or more of the smaller parties, to allow a breather before the next election. This would have the advantage of permitting Diefenbaker to submit to Parliament a legislative program, including the tax cuts and old age pension increases he promised during the campaign.

The Conservatives won 110 of the 265 seats in the House and the Liberals won 103. For a majority a party needs 134 seats, since one member of the winning party becomes speaker.

Airman Denied Bail Pending Greek Trial

ATHENS, Greece, June 11 (AP)—Greek authorities decided today U. S. Airman Majon Musilli should be committed for trial in a fatal traffic accident and that, pending trial, he should be denied bail.

The decision was reached in a conference between examining Magistrate Christos Pouras and Prosecutor Constantine Christopoulos after the airman, from Benwood, W. Va., made a statement to the magistrate at security police headquarters.

Musilli is charged with manslaughter by negligence as the driver of a vehicle that killed Gen. Stephanos Saraphis, a leftist member of Parliament, May 31. He is also charged with causing serious bodily harm to Saraphis' wife, who was injured.

Harford School Plan Protested By Negro Group

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—Harford county school administrators today offered for Federal Judge Roszel Thomsen's approval a planned opportunity for admission of Negroes to junior and senior high.

Jack Greenberg, lawyer for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, entered a protest. The NAACP has been trying to make Harford County speed up school integration since last fall.

This is the second time the dispute has been before Judge Thomsen. In between, it has been taken up by the State Board of Education.

Today's proposal is an answer to a directive by Judge Thomsen in April that the county school officials make a recommendation for stepping up integration.

The proposal is for Negro students wanting to attend two upper schools restricted to whites next September to make applications between July 1 and July 15.

The two school principals would pass on the applicants.

Greenberg protested this would subject Negro applicants to "intelligence and achievement tests" which aren't required of white students seeking transfers.

The Harford County integration question was raised initially in behalf of 12 Negroes refused transfer to white elementary schools last fall. The county school board originally announced that Negroes in the first three grades would be considered for transfer to two schools.

Sixty Negroes applied and 15 were accepted. Suit was brought before Judge Thomsen in behalf of a dozen out of the 45 rejected.

Judge Thomsen ruled the appeal should go first to the State Board of Education. The board upheld the county action on March 4. The NAACP went back to Judge Thomsen.

Informally, he approved in April Harford's plan to open more of the county's elementary schools to Negroes in the next school year. But he also directed that an attempt be made to admit some to the schools beyond the seventh grade.

Poultry Industry Honors Marylander

LAUREL, Del., June 11 (AP)—Otis G. Esham of Salisbury, Md., was given the distinguished citizen's award tonight at the Delmarva Chicken Festival.

The award for promotion of the industry was presented by Sterling A. White, president of the Delmarva Poultry Industry Inc. It is the second time the award has been made. John G. Townsend, also of Maryland, received it last year.

The presentation was a feature of the opening of the three-day festival.

Esham started in the poultry business 19 years ago by converting an old barn into a broiler house on his father's farm near Parsonsburg. It had a capacity of 2,200.

Today, Esham's five corporations produce more than 6½ million chicks a year, 2½ million broilers, 10,000 tons of feed and maintain 50,000 layers.

Air Force Schedules ARDC, MATS Moves

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Air Force said today it plans to move its Air Research and Development Command headquarters from Baltimore to Andrews, Md. Air Force Base near here during the year beginning July 1.

During the same period, an Air Force spokesman told the House Armed Services Committee, headquarters of the Military Air Transport Service (MATS) will be transferred to Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, Ill.

The proposed transfer has been under consideration for some time. Today was the first public mention of when the double move will be made.

Pinups Come Down

LONDON, June 11 (AP)—British soldiers must keep their pinup girlie pictures out of sight at barracks inspections, the War Office has ruled. They can keep up family photographs, however.

Suspect Surrenders To Spectacles Case

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—Forty-five-year-old Joseph Deangelis used his spectacles and a car today to bag a man the cops couldn't catch.

After he nabbed him, Deangelis clapped the man into the trunk of his car and carted him off to headquarters.

Deangelis, a nightclub operator, got into the cops-and-robbers act when he saw a tall Negro outdistancing two policemen in a chase down St. Paul street. The fleeing man was carrying an adding machine.

Deangelis gave chase in his car and finally collared the man 10 blocks away.

"Stick 'em up, or I'll give you the works," Deangelis yelled as he rammed an object into the man's back. The object was Deangelis' spectacles case.

When the cops didn't show immediately, Deangelis marched the man to the rear of the car, ordered him in the trunk and delivered him to headquarters to the surprise of the crew on duty.

Bringing up the rear, with the adding machine the man had tossed in some bushes were Patrolman William Booz and George Bowen.

The man, 29, was held for investigation of a break-in at an office.

WHICH CAN STAND LOSS LEAST..?

If you think you're not "rich enough" to need a Will — look at this picture, and remember three facts:

ONE: a loss that would mean little, to a big estate, can be very serious to a smaller one.

TWO: only if you make a Will can you name an executor that knows, from settling many estates, how to avoid unnecessary loss.

THREE: we have settled many estates — and we'll be glad to talk to you and your lawyer about your plans.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, June 11 (INS)—Everybody knows what is the shortest measurable length of time. It is that period that passes between the microsecond the light turns green and the light turns red. A mark of the man's continued personal popularity and standing as a leader in spite of the rough time he has had with Congress over his budget.

John Foster Dulles may indeed be the greatest secretary of state in American history, as the President once suggested. But he's no friend of blueberry pie. It was he who named that great American delicacy as the culprit in the President's latest illness.

The blueberry pie trust should demand equal time on the air. Dulles may have brought the blueberry pie business to the brink. And that's a pity. It's a fine pie, more American than let us say, apple or cherry. It seems to me that Dulles missed a great chance to get in a little anti-Russian propaganda in his eagerness to diagnose the precise cause of the President's trouble. He should have blamed it on a bowl of bortsch.

If "The Jimmy Stewart Story" is ever filmed, Hank Bloomgarden, now winner of $100,000 "and change" on Jack Barry's NBC quiz "21," should get the role.

Looks like him, talks like him, has the same manner.

Mayflower II has been constantly called a "replica" of the ship that brought the Puritans to Plymouth in 1635. Actually, it isn't. No paintings or sketches exist of the original Mayflower, nor are there any design charts showing its construction. Its beginning and end is shrouded in the folds of history.

Some authorities say that it took part in the engagement against the Spanish Armada.

Progress Made But No Cure Yet For Sclerosis

PHILADELPHIA, June 11 (AP)—Colorado industrialist Robert Donner, who heads a foundation which contributed to multiple sclerosis research, said today "it cannot be claimed without further research" that a cure has been found for the disease.

His statement followed a report Friday by Miss Rose R. Ichelson, a research biologist here, that she had isolated a germ causing multiple sclerosis.

Donner is trustee of the Donner Foundation, started by his father. The organization had financed some of Miss Ichelson's research. "In addition to a number of other charitable organizations," Donner said.

"I wish to caution," said Donner in his statement, "that while the discovery of Miss Ichelson's is a possible contribution to the fight against multiple sclerosis, it has not yet been proved the spirochete (germ) Miss Ichelson worked on is the cause of the disease."

"Time and tests by other researchers will prove whether the discovery claimed will lead to victory over MS. If these organisms are the cause of MS and Miss Ichelson is able to grow them, the discovery could lead to a vaccine that would prevent the affliction."

"At this point, it cannot be claimed, without further research by others, that the germ isolated by Miss Ichelson is the one that can immunize and cure the disease."

others scoff at this. Some say it was sold at a ripe and leaky age to a rich English farmer who dismantled it for the lumber; others disagree.

It is similar to a type of galleon then in use, but it will suffice until the real one shows up.

Wonder what Whistler had against his old man?

But who can figure out his son? Gil Hodges of the Dodgers scored both runs in the 2-0 victory of his team over the Yankees in the 1955 World Series — Brooklyn's first championship. There were so many young fans gathered around his suburban home when he arrived from Ebbets Field that police had to be called to clear the block. Gil, badly mauled by autograph seekers, stumbled into the safety of his home. His young son looked up from the TV set and said, "Pop, you missed it."

"Missed what?" the great hero asked.

"Captain Midnight," the boy said. "It just ended."

'Mind Over Matter' Newsman Eats Silkworm, Grasshopper

By EDWARD S. KITCH
CHICAGO, June 11 (AP)—There better be something to the saying that you can eat anything that won't bite you first because I just ate a fried silkworm, fried grasshopper and a bit of broiled eel.

It's just like Arnold Rosenstock says.

"It's a matter of mind over matter."

He's one of several hundred specialty food dealers attending the first international specialty food and confection trade show.

Rosenstock, who is here from New York, includes us among the three out of 10 who'll try such tidbits during a cocktail party just for kicks. Although he recommends fried silkworms to others, he wouldn't sample one himself.

"I don't have a strong enough mind," he said.

I'm glad he said that these Japanese preparations for cocktail conversation passed inspection by the U. S. government's pure food and drug men.

The silkworm tasted like fried bacon rind—dry and nut-like.

The grasshopper tasted about the same as the silkworm but was said a little more moist.

"That's because it absorbed a little more of the cooking oil than the silkworm," Rosenstock said.

The broiled eel was sweet and tender and tasted of fish.

A new novelty item imported from Japan is designed not for eating but for cocktail hour fun. It's an oyster in the shell with each one to contain a cultured pearl.

"We guarantee there'll be a pearl in each one," Rosenstock said.

North, South Poles Linked By Radio

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, June 11 (AP)—An Air Force sergeant stationed near the North Pole has been chatting over shortwave radio with a Navy operator near the South Pole.

The Alaska Air Command said Sgt. William F. Settle Jr., Goldboro, N. C., reports he is communicating to the bottom of the world over station K17FBE.

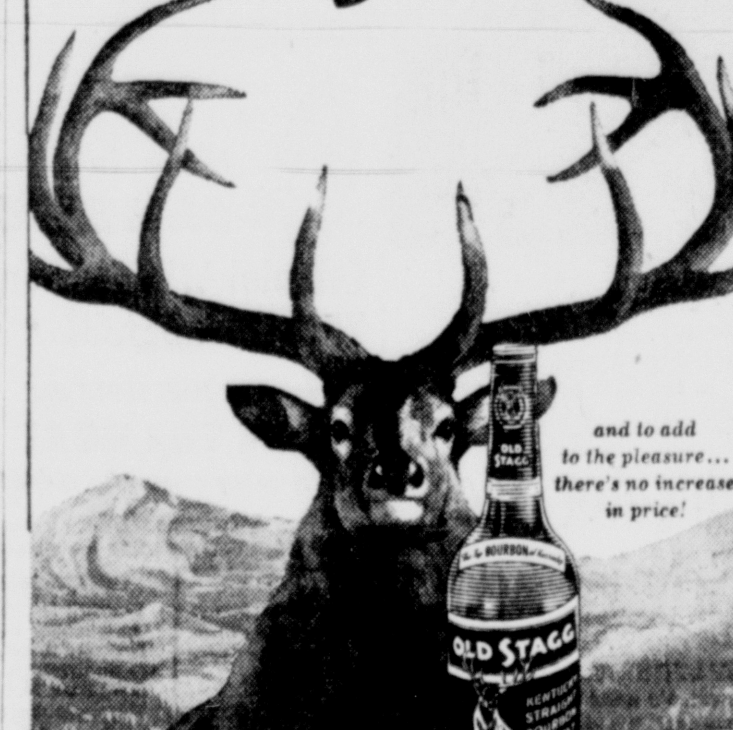

Settle's Arctic station is on the air from a floating ice island, 600 miles north of Point Barrow, North America's northernmost community.

Settle said he has talked for as long as 30 minutes at a time with the South Pole Navy base radio station, KC4USN, and an operator known to him only as Bill.

Eisenhower's Latest Illness Revives Disability Discussion

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

President Eisenhower's latest illness, though apparently not serious, naturally revives the discussion about how the duties of the office should be carried on when a president is incapacitated.

A House subcommittee started studying the subject after the President's heart attack nearly two years ago. After some hearings it closed up shop without any concrete decision.

The chief witness was Atty. Gen. Brownell, who recommended on behalf of Eisenhower himself, a constitutional amendment empowering the Cabinet to decide when the vice president should take over.

As it stands now, the Constitution authorizes the vice president to take over in case of "removal" of the President, or of his "death, resignation or inability." Failure of the clause to specify any authority for determining disability has been interpreted by constitutional lawyers as leaving it to the vice president.

Some people have expressed fear that, under improbable but conceivable circumstances, some vice president might take advantage of such power to stage a coup during a brief illness and try to hold the presidency.

Others feared some president might use a plan such as Eisenhower's to let a vice president take over and, by the exercise of presidential power, assure his own nomination for the job at the next party convention.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) introduced a bill providing for creation of a commission, composed of the vice president and judicial and legislative representatives, to decide with the help of medical advice when a president becomes disabled and when he is able to resume his duties.

Nothing has happened, and nothing is likely to happen, at least for the foreseeable future. There are too many different ideas in Congress.

Every suggestion for a rigid procedure sets up legal handholds which might be grabbed by some ambitious vice president in the future.

At present, any vice president who violated the conscience of the Congress or the nation in such a situation would be subject to impeachment. Many prefer to keep it that way, rather than set up rules which might fail to cover some future circumstance.

No vice president has ever sought to grab office in such case. Instead, when President Wilson was ill for more than a year, his wife and his executive associates were accused of "covering up" and trying to leave the impression that he was able to conduct the office.

Two WVU Graduates Named To Faculty

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., June 11 (AP)—The appointment of two West Virginia University graduates as instructors on the WVU faculty were announced yesterday by President Irvin Stewart's office.

Lawrence Reppert of Morgantown was named instructor in the department of electrical engineering and Louise Miller, also of Morgantown, was appointed an instructor in mathematics.

A third Morgantown resident, Lee Steele, was named an assistant extension dairyman.

Also announced were the appointments of Bernice A. Bukosky of Donora, Pa., and Herschel P. Roberts of Glenville as graduate assistants in the English department.

W.Va. High Court Will Review Auto Search Case

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 11 (AP)—The State Supreme Court yesterday unanimously agreed to hear the appeal of But H. Taft, who was convicted in Monongalia County for drunk driving and transporting liquor illegally.

Taft's two motions contended that both convictions resulted from faulty brakes on his car. He said the brake slipped, causing the car to roll forward about three feet after it was parked by the Monongalia County court house in Morgantown.

The auto into which Taft's car bumped belonged to Constable Joseph P. Sisler. The constable took Taft to the nearby jail, took his car keys — Taft contended — and searched the car without a warrant. He found several fifths of whisky. Transporting more than a gallon of liquor in an auto violates West Virginia law.

Dalton To Run For Governor In Virginia

RICHMOND, Va., June 11 (AP)—Republican Ted Dalton said yesterday he will enter the race for governor again this year if enough voters — Republicans, Democrats and Independents — advise him to get into the fight.

"We may not win," said the Radford state senator whose party has besought him to challenge the Byrd organization for a second straight time. "But if enough of you write, I promise you we will enter the contest with a whole heart, and working together, we will give them the fight of their lives."

Dalton thus called for what amounted to an advisory primary before saying without reservation he will match his more conservative school program views against the Democrats' program of "massive resistance" to any integration at all.

The Democratic candidate for governor is virtually certain to be Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. who has spearheaded the legal fight to maintain segregated schools. Almond with the all out backing of the Byrd organization has only a minor July 9 primary hurdle between him and the nomination.

Improvements Set At W.Va. Colleges

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 11 (AP)—Construction contracts for completing renovation of the administration building at West Virginia Tech and for an addition to the new health and physical education building at West Liberty State College were awarded yesterday.

The State Board of Education awarded H. B. Agsten Jr. of Charleston the contract for the work on Old Main at Tech. Agsten submitted the low base bid of $117,340.

Five bids were considered on the West Liberty project.

Base bids were $94,650 by Edward M. Selby of Martins Ferry, Ohio, $84,900 by Byrum Construction Co. of Wheeling, $93,440 by R. S. Corson Co., Inc. of Morgantown, and $94,410 by Harry W. Trushel of Weirton.

On two lesser construction projects, the board awarded contracts to the following low bidders:

L. H. Miner Inc., of Hagerstown, Md., $3,645 for re-roofing McMurran and Reynolds halls at Shepherd College.

Standard Tile Co. of Staunton, Va., $8,250 for tile wainscot in 10 bathrooms at the Schools for the Deaf and Blind.

Scientists' Discovery Upsets Ideas About Ions

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

PALO ALTO, Calif., June 11 (AP)—Two Stanford University scientists reported today a discovery which upsets current ideas about the vast sea of electrified particles enveloping the earth.

The particles exist as far as 6,000 miles out in space instead of the more 200 miles or so heretofore reported. Their numbers are tremendously greater than scientists had figured previously.

This means that the sun's radiation to the earth and the particles of matter it constantly throws at us are subjected to a much heavier screening effect than formerly calculated.

The findings contradict long-held theories for explaining magnetic storms and displays of the northern lights, and they deepen the mystery of how disturbances on the sun may affect the earth's weather.

They also point to a possible new way of utilizing outer space for the transmission of radio signals. And finally they pose a new problem for the artificial satellite program, because the artificial moons will have to contend with more matter in space than scientists have calculated.

To nail down the evidence for the existence of this great cloud of particles Prof. Robert A. Helliwell of Stanford's radio propagation laboratory sent an associate, Ernest Gehrels, to the southernmost tip of South America with a radio receiving set.

There Gehrels listened to and recorded signals from the Navy's powerful transmitter at Annapolis, Md.

Gehrels received the signals almost simultaneously with their transmission, as they went into the air and were bent back earthward by the lower layers of the sea of electrified particles 200 miles up. This is the conventional way of getting long distance radio reception.

But Gehrels listened also for a "ghost signal." As the scientists suspected, this was a repetition of the original signal, and it arrived three-quarters of a second behind the conventional one.

This could only mean, Dr. Helliwell said, that the signal had gone thousands of miles away from the earth and then had been curved back by something in presumably empty space.

The thing that did the curving, Dr. Helliwell said, was the earth's magnetic field. But this magnetic field cannot cause a radio signal to curve except in the presence of electrified particles. Also great numbers of these particles over long distances can slow the speed of the signal, and that accounted for the three-quarters of a second lag.

Dr. Helliwell calculated that the ghost signal traveled probably 20,000 miles and that the duration of the lag indicated the signal went through a path in space having an average number of 5,000 electrical particles per cubic centimeter.

Scientists previously had theor-

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrift" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

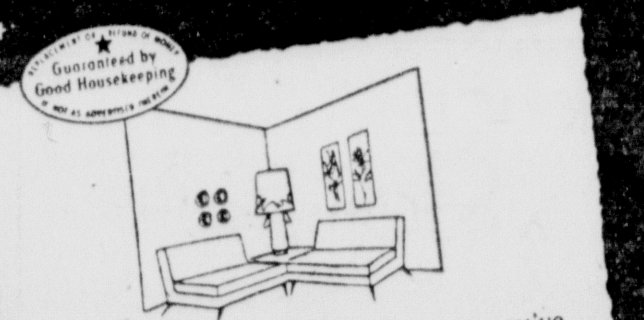

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Topknot News

Bobby pins should never leave home. We mean, on the head. Recently we were shocked to see a young girl barge into a coffee shop with her hair in pin curls. She had been swimming in a club next door. All the other swimmers had their hair combed neatly. Even if it was still damp, they looked neat and fun-loving. Everyone of the younger crowd avoided the other girl and seemed embarrassed for her. They recognized what poor taste she was showing by looking like one should look only in the confines of a boudoir.

Only In Emergency

Hair setting should always be done at home. Even a husband shouldn't see his wife in pin curls, except in an emergency. Men dislike women to be unkempt; even children are embarrassed when their mothers go around the house in an unattractive manner. Always remember that when mother's appearance isn't what it should be, childhood memories won't be what they should be, either.

With all the many quick-set lotions on the market today, you can set your hair easily. When you have as much as a half-hour between you and an engagement, pin up your curls with a whisk of quick-dry wave lotion before your bath. By the time you rest for 10 minutes, put on your make-up and dress, your hair will be as disciplined as it should be.

With Less Time

When you have less time, a spray-on may be used for a very quick set. Simply arrange your hair neatly. Then spray on the liquid and don a hair net until your hair is dry. Or, you can set your limp hair with cologne. But, please do not use either of the above methods as a regular daily procedure; they are only a poor second when compared to a properly set head.

It was pointed out that the award is made, not on grades or need alone, but "to a good student who will benefit by a college education and be an asset to her community, but could not obtain it without financial help."

Announcement also was made that the used book sale in May for the benefit of the scholarship fund was a successful project.

A program of madrigal singing was presented. A Renaissance movement of informal, unaccompanied songs of a secular nature, and for the most part telling a story, the numbers included "When Alan-a-Dale Went a Hunting," "In These Delightful Pleasant Groves," "Phyllis," "Sing We Enchanted," "Brightly Dawns Our Wedding Day," and in concluding a characteristic folk song. The group consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Harris, Mr. and

Trio Pleads Guilty In Two Morals Cases

Guilty pleas were entered yesterday in Circuit Court by three men charged with statutory rape.

Two of the men were involved in the morals case in which 14 young men were tried in court last week. It involved two 13-year-old Corrigansville section girls. The third defendant was involved with a 13-year-old Cumberland girl last November and was recently returned from California on the indictment returned by the January grand jury.

James A. Christman, 31, who had been arrested in Santa Clara, Calif., pleaded guilty when arraigned before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris. He was represented by Earl E. Manges and Edward J. Ryan, local attorneys.

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher outlined the facts in the case to the court. He said the girl was in the habit of going to a restaurant in the downtown section where young people loitered during the evening.

One night she and her boy friend had a "tiff" and the girl went out with Christman in his car. He drove her to a road off U. S. Route 40 about five miles from Cumberland and assaulted her. The state's attorney said the incident was brought to light by school officials who inquired about the girl's truancy from school. She was questioned and told of the incident.

Attorney Manges told the court the girl appeared to be at least 16 years of age, although he admitted that this was no defense legally. Manges also said the girl had gone over to Christman's car and "enticed" him.

The two young men involved with the 13-year-old Corrigansville area girls are Wilbert Gordon Lavin, 23, of Mt. Savage, and Joseph John Riley Jr., 18, city.

State's Attorney Fletcher said that neither of the men has a police record. One of them, Riley, was married recently. Lavin helps support his family and left school when in the eighth grade to go to work, according to William H. Geppert, his attorney. Geppert also represented Riley.

After hearing the facts in all three cases the men were ordered remanded to the county jail pending a pre-sentence check of their background by David M. Steele, probation officer. Lavin and Riley had been out on bond.

Williams, 28, was assistant director of industrial promotion department of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce before joining the C&O as industrial analyst in Huntington, W. Va., in 1956.

He is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College and received a master's degree at Pennsylvania State University. He served in the Army.

Hospital Has New Therapy Department

In an effort to keep abreast with developments of modern medicine, Memorial Hospital has announced the addition of a new department.

John A. Moberly, superintendent, revealed the employment of James Donahue, a qualified physical therapist.

Moberly said that two months ago the Board of Governors of the institution recognized the increased need for faster rehabilitation of industrial accident cases and other such cases, and authorized the employment of Donahue.

Donahue, a native of Frostburg, started his duties Monday and will organize a fully-equipped Physical Therapy Department at the hospital.

Physical therapy is the treatment of disease (or injuries) by physical and mechanical means, as by regulated exercise in water, light, heat, electricity etc., Moberly said.

Moberly said Donahue will have at his disposal several pieces of equipment such as a whirlpool bath, a diathermy microtherm (which is the newest piece of equipment for deep heat treatment) a sunlamp and others.

Donahue will administer the treatment only after the patient's physician has ordered such treatment. Appointments for outpatients must also be made through family physicians, Moberly said.

Donahue was graduated from LaSalle High School in 1943, and attended Frostburg State Teachers College for two years. He was graduated from Fairmont State Teachers College in 1950 with a degree in biological science and physical education.

Following his graduation from Fairmont, Donahue attended the Medical College of Virginia where he completed his education in physical therapy.

Moberly said the young man is coming to Cumberland highly recommended. He has served five years on the staff at Veterans Administration Hospital at Fort Howard, and organized the Physical Therapy Department at City Hospital in Baltimore, where he served as chief physical therapist.

The hospital superintendent noted that the institution is anxious to fill the needs of the area, and pointed out that in the past most persons requiring this type of treatment had to go to Baltimore.

The only other physical therapist is a member of the staff of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

Donahue said that several other pieces of equipment will be added to the department as the need is demonstrated.

He is married to the former Miss Marilyn Grimm and is the father of one child, James Donahue Jr.

County Board Members Wage Heated Debate

Commissioners William H. Lemmert and Charles N. Wilkinson engaged in a heated argument yesterday at the meeting of the County Board of Commissioners over inclusion in the minutes of a statement by Wilkinson concerning appointees to the Civil Service Board.

Wilkinson's statement (which was published last week in The Cumberland News) gave his opinion on the appointees. He said he favored the naming of J. Glenn Beall Jr., Frostburg insurance and real estate man, and William L. Wilson, local attorney, "but I cannot concur in the other appointments."

The third appointee was Woodward Pealer, city manager of the retail store of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

When Wilkinson submitted his typewritten statement yesterday, Commissioner Lemmert said: "There's not one word of truth in this statement concerning Mr. Pealer. He's an outstanding young man and has been recognized as such by the Cumberland Junior Chamber of Commerce in an award a few months ago."

Wilkinson said: "I have nothing personal against the man, but I don't think he's capable for the job."

The referendum on the adoption of the zoning regulation will be held next Tuesday, June 18, at the LaVale Fire Hall from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

At the same time the District 29 voters will elect a three-man zoning board from among six candidates.

Officials Plan Discussion Of Cumberland's Finances

City and banking officials got together for a general discussion of Cumberland's financial situation yesterday and agreed to meet again at an early date after bankers study a condensed report of present and future money plans of the city.

The conference was held at the request of Finance Commissioner John J. Long, who said after the session that he considered the initial meeting a success and felt that the next would be "productive."

The figures to be submitted to the bankers are expected to deal chiefly with the Cumberland Thruway, a project facing the city and which City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson said is "the only thing not provided for" in city financing.

The city's share of construction is $490,000 for the $12,000,000 facility and Gibson said that amount is the "major problem."

Bankers were apprised of the agreement with the State Roads Commission concerning payment of $70,000 a year for seven years to cover the city's share of the Thruway construction cost. These payments were to have started in 1954 but were not withheld from state motor vehicle and gasoline tax revenues until this year.

Also discussed was the proposed $500,000 bond issue the city has requested presumably to meet the first three payments on the Thruway obligation, and the reasons for the bond issue. This issue faces a referendum, hanging upon a Circuit Court decision concerning legality of certain signatures on petitions submitted to the city. Arguments in the referendum case are scheduled next Monday at 1:30 p. m. in Allegany County Circuit Court.

During the discussions, Gibson also pointed out that the city's debt service is in as good a condition if not better than at any time since he has been city auditor, and pointed out the major effect on the tax rate has come from increased costs in the operation of city services, wage increases, fringe benefits and the like. Debt service as it affects the tax rate has dropped from 44 cents to 33 cents since 1938, he said.

Long pointed out he had asked for the meeting to get expert advice on finances. He said the city's fiscal year ends in 43 days and that the budget for this multi-million dollar business must be set by August. He asked that the bankers look at the financial status and recommend best approaches for the Mayor and Council to follow.

He said the city has had "overspending" of the announced and projected amounts of money needed on several major projects, citing in particular the flood control project which will cost three quarters of a million more than had been anticipated, and the recent award in a land condemnation suit affecting the Ridgeley athletic field in the amount of $97,000 of which the city must pay one-third.

"We all know," Long said, "that the real pressure for increased government spending comes from some source, transmitted to the Mayor and Council through one of its members for more and more city services. All will agree that the public shares an equal responsibility with the Mayor and Council in the search for city economies. We must all realize that what the city pays back to the people must first come from the people, from which a very substantial overhead to cover the cost of city government must be deducted."

Attending the meeting were: A. W. Tindal, First National Bank; Joseph A. Naughton, Second National Bank; A. J. Weber, Cumberland Savings Bank; Lynn C. Lashley, First Federal Savings and Loan Association; Mayor Roy W. Eves, commissioners Long, William J. Edwards and William V. Keegan, city attorney Thomas B. Finan, city engineer Charles R. Nuzum, city clerk Wallace G. Ullery, Gibson, James Alfred Avirett, chairman of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission, and Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn.

Charles A. Piper, president of Liberty Trust Company, was unable to attend the first session because of a bank directors meeting. Also absent was Commissioner William H. Buchholz who was out of town with his son who is entering military service.

SRC Asked To Lift Bedford Street Parking Ban

The Mayor and Council yesterday request is being made in a letter to the State Roads Commission, dispatched to Norman M. Pritchett, chief engineer of the SRC, to consider deleting a section of the Frederick Street in Baltimore. Pritchett had recommended that the city present data which prohibits parking on the supporting its request for consideration by the commission between Decatur and Marietta should the commission accept it will pass on its recommendation.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said the letter to the federal Bureau of Public Roads which will make the final decision.

Residents and property owners of the 300, 400 and 500 blocks of Bedford Street have been waging an intense campaign to have parking restrictions removed. The group has as its chairman William A. Miller.

Mayor Eves explained that when the contract was made for federal aid in the half million dollar improvement project, one federal request was to comply with certain standards regulating parking. The city, he said, had argued to lift the parking restriction but the agreement was returned and stipulated that Bedford Street would be one-way from the city limits to Mechanic Street and that the parking restriction must remain.

At a later meeting in Baltimore with SRC and federal officials, it was indicated when the city's financial obligations were met the federal bureau would consider lifting the parking ban if the request came through the State Roads Commission and with its approval, Eves said.

The letter sent to Pritchett, according to Eves, is the official request from the city to the SRC which it is hoped will be approved by the state group and forwarded to the bureau of Public Roads.

In the letter, it is pointed out the length of the section is 1,500 feet and the street is 24 feet wide. The number of housing units, including apartments facing the street total 43; only 20 units have garages. There are also three business places in the affected section.

The city pointed out that prior to its designation as one-way, Bedford Street carried a daily volume in excess of 3,031 cars, trucks and buses with parking permitted along the easterly curb. There are no records in Police Department files of any accident investigations in the section involved.

The city's letter said in view of the vehicular traffic when the street was two-way, and parking was permitted along the easterly curb, the fact that parking is restricted now that it is one-way does not appear to be justified.

It was pointed out "There are areas in the 1000, 1100 and 1400 blocks where the street widths are 21.8, 21.5 and 23.8 feet respectively with unrestricted parking along the easterly curb although the width of the restricted area is 24 feet. No complaints or accidents have been reported in these areas."

Federal aid toward the project these areas.

The letter, signed by Eves, amounted to $250,000.

Beall Sees Air Plan As Possible Boost For State

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—An airline's offer to use Friendship Airport in proposed service to Mexico City was viewed today by Sen. Beall (R-Md.) as a possible world trade boost for Baltimore. Beall told the Senate that because Pan American World Airways has said it plans to use Friendship Airport, the people of Maryland and Baltimore hope Pan American is the successful applicant in a pending case.

The senator referred to the New York-Washington-Mexico City non-stop service case pending before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

"Our selfishness—if it may be so called—stems from our continued belief that Baltimore's Friendship Airport offers unlimited facilities for any airline with foresight enough to use it as a base of operations," Beall said.

"Pan American has informed the CAB and the public that it intends to use Friendship as its Washington terminal upon being granted certificates by the CAB," he added.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	1 spade	2 hearts
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of hearts.

In today's hand declarer presented the defenders with a golden opportunity which they were quick to seize.

West's simple overcall does not meet with the approval of this department. A takeout double is more to our taste. If East has a smattering of strength he may be induced to bid further, whereas a mere overcall may elicit no response. The final double was a product of West's frustration at being outbid.

West opened the king of hearts and East started to echo with the nine. Declarer won with the ace and played the ace and another trump. West was in and cashed the queen of hearts and continued with the jack. Had East played reflexly, taking an insignificant discard, declarer would have come home with his contract.

East, however, decided to play his partner for a six card suit and

Opinion States Board May Select Leader

The Attorney General's office yesterday advised the office of Governor McKeldin in an informal opinion that under the law the Allegany County Board of Alcohol Beverage License Commissioners elects its own chairman.

Estel C. Kelley, of Cumberland, named some weeks ago to succeed Walter C. Capper, who had served as chairman of the board, has not qualified for the position, and the Governor's office was asked to obtain a ruling on whether the Governor's appointment of Kelley was as chairman of the board.

Kelley failed to attend a meeting of the board June 4 at which Stanley O. Hamilton was named chairman. The third member of the board is Howard M. Vandegriff, Democrat. Hamilton and Kelley are Republicans.

New Fresh Breeze

In "Variety's" last list of leading record sellers appear such names as Pat Boone (who heads the list), Ricky Nelson and Tommy Sands, all of them well scrubbed, frightfully wholesome youngsters. The leading song on the list is "Love Letters In The Sand," an old and sentimental song, and number three is "So Rare," another old song.

Just possibly we have turned the corner. The wholesome look has arisen not only in the new singers but, to some degree, in what they sing. Of course, lurking in second place is dear old Elvis Presley with "All Shook Up," a rock 'n' roll number of fearsome proportions. It's true, too, that Boone and Sands sing rock 'n' roll, whose popularity has diminished hardly at all, but at least they look human. They wear ties and shoes and they cut their hair. A small comfort, you say, but these days we have to take comfort from every small crumb.

The current crop of popular young singers is called in some circles the "fig newton and coconuts set." Altogether a healthy influence on the teen-agers, says my friend Mammie, who keeps tabs on this crowd more closely than I do. However, Mammie warns that a small cloud is already arising on the horizon. "What are we going to do twenty-five years from now," he asks, "when TV producers start dramatizing the life story of these squares? Where are the Lillian Roths and the Helen Morgans of tomorrow? Can you imagine the Pat Boone story? Ninety minutes of searing drama about how he fought the malted milk habit. Or the Eddie Fisher story? The climax comes when Eddie and Debbie have a terrible fight over where to send the kids to school. It'll tear the heart out of you."

A frightful prospect, all right, and one I devoutly hope I'm not around to watch. In "Look" magazine's current issue there is an article about the squariness of all handleaders, Lawrence Welk, demolishing such opposition as Jimmy Durante, Sid Caesar, Herb Shriner and Robert Montgomery. For the future TV dramatist, working on the Lawrence Welk stories there is much food for thought, all of it terribly depressing.

"Welk has other fixed rules and his wrath is monumental when any of them are violated. Female vocalists are not permitted to wear low-cut gowns; band leaders must not smoke or drink at work and must look contented at all times when on camera; they must lead happy home lives and allow him to arbitrate, if necessary, to avert divorce."

I can just see the scene that paragraph suggests to the future screenwriter of The Lawrence Welk Story. The third trombonist slips into his dressing room to find Lawrence Welk ahead of him. The band leader is in a monumental rage. "What are you looking so miserable about?" he screams smashing the trombone player in the jaw. "And while we're playing 'So Rare' too." Another belt on the jaw. "Your contract says you're supposed to look contented at all times — dudge. I think it's long overdue, and during 'Stardust,' ecstatic." But I'm afraid it's also going to be a little bit dull.

"Go ahead — look ecstatic, blast you," howls the wrathful bandleader. "You call that ecstasy? Hoskins, you're through. Pack up that horn and get out." Well, it's not much, but there's a germ of a big scene there. Perhaps some future Andy Griffith could carry it off. Even if I live to see it, I don't think I'll go to the Lawrence Welk Story.

Naval Reviews Then And Now

The first international naval review in U.S. waters in 50 years today will demonstrate dramatically the growth of U.S. naval power since the days of President Theodore Roosevelt. When the nation last played host on a similar scale to foreign warships—on April 26, 1907 off Hampton Roads—it went without saying that Britannia ruled the waves. Germany, building in feverish competition with Great Britain, ranked second in naval magnitude, and France was rapidly overtaking the United States, to move into third place by the outbreak of World War I. Today, Jane's Fighting Ships (1956-57) rates the United States first among naval powers. Second is the U.S.S.R., with Great Britain, even before its recently announced cuts in ships and manpower, a lagging third. The lead in guided missiles and atomic propulsion is given to the United States.

The U.S. Navy at the beginning of the fiscal year 1907 had 276 ships, including 200 fighting ships. President Eisenhower's budget this year calls for 983 ships, including 406 warships and 11,790 airplanes. The U.S. Navy in 1907 had a component of 41,308 officers and men, including 5,729 Marines. The new budget puts the Navy's strength at 875,000, including 200,000 Marines.

But statistics tell poorly the story of U.S. naval growth. The last of the U.S. pre-dreadnaught battleships, completed in 1908, displaced 16,000 tons. Two mighty dreadnaughts completed in 1914 displaced only 27,000 tons. Leading the U.S. contingent off Norfolk today will be four aircraft carriers, headed by the super flattop, the 60,000-ton U.S.S. Saratoga, the world's largest and mightiest warship. And to demonstrate the Navy's newer weapons, the guided missile submarine Barbero will pass in review, as well as the guided missile heavy cruisers, Boston and Canberra.

Police Quality

It used to be that the cop on the beat was a big fat fellow, usually of Irish extraction, who was friendly, good to children, and who had a tough time chasing a pickpocket or what was called in those days a second-story man. Today, the police of a big city have to deal with criminals who do big business, often running into hundreds of millions of dollars. They have to deal with human beings who have been so crushed by life that they have become psychological and sociological problems. The punks and crumbos who are set up by the big criminals for arrests are really not worth bothering about. To get the big boys involves knowledge, astuteness, training and even then there is no assurance that a narcotics banker will not be sprung by a so-called liberal-minded judge who is only liberal to criminals.

New York City, with a population of 8,000,000 and affecting a metropolitan area of perhaps 20,000,000 is naturally a center of big crime. The other center is Chicago and a third is New Orleans. But that does not mean that big criminals are situated only in the localities where they work. Lucky Luciano continues to operate the narcotic cartel in the United States although he lives in Naples, Italy, which is not many hours away by airplane.

A police department that faces that kind of a criminal world cannot depend any longer on good-natured cops on the beat to catch criminals, although the cop on the beat is needed for other purposes. The new style policeman needs to know law and accounting and languages and in our polyglot big cities some history and sociology. The FBI Academy is the ideal of all police academies. The New York Police Academy is associated with the Bernard M. Baruch School of Business and Public Administration of the City College of New York. The present Police Commissioner of New York, a tough cop, some think too tough, has a B.S. and an LL.B.; the Inspector who is the Commanding Officer of the Police Academy, Robert R. J. Gallati, has a B.S. and LL.B. and an LL.M. He is also a graduate of the FBI Academy. I understand some 1268 members of the New York police force are college graduates, and when they go to the Academy, they get a post-graduate course in police science.

In our large cities, the kind of foreign language most prevalent is constantly changing, but the older ones do not altogether die out. Today Spanish-speaking experts are required who not only are colloquially perfect but who have a broad knowledge of Latin American tongues and peoples. It is not that the Puerto Ricans are criminals but they are a new element in the population who tend to gather in overcrowded cities and who present all the problems which each new wave of immigrants has presented. Thus, a police officer who is also a sociologist and has done special work in minority groups is an asset.

The old-fashioned idea of a cop with a club who splits a skull to put down a street fight is of no value today. Unfortunately, that type of cop, picturesque as he was, will not accomplish much in these days when misdemeanors are of a different nature than a street fight and felonies are perpetrated by the keenest minds. Whoever heard of a top member of a racket being in a street fight? More likely, he is dancing with a magnificent blonde in a night club or he is attending a charitable affair at $100 a ticket where only the genteel meet the genteel and each speaks about his own virtue.

So conscious have the police become of the vagaries of the law and the anxiety of the higher courts that the criminal's constitutional rights be protected that those who are given this academic instruction in New York are given courses in: The Constitution and Due Process; The Courts; Criminal Law and Modus Operandi; Municipal Law; Evidence.

Presumably similar courses are given in other cities where such academies have been organized. One effect of all this could be so to inhibit the policeman that he would be afraid to arrest anyone. But that could happen if we have many opinions like the one Justice Brennan handed down on the FBI files. That can destroy all police agencies.

Seager Is Playing Historic Role In Jordan

By Joseph Alsop

AMMAN In this sunbaked little desert city, one of the really decisive tests of the Eisenhower administration's courage and power to make national policy is now in progress.

Outwardly, what is happening is the very opposite of dramatic. Calm and King Hussein now reign in Jordan. There is no outward tension while the talks proceed between representatives of King Hussein's government, the local American Embassy staff, and the visiting American official, responsible for the foreign aid program in the Middle East.

The name of Cedric Seager can hardly be known at home beyond the narrow circle of his private friends and regular official contacts. Yet this man who has been sent to Jordan to look into the matter of American aid for young King Hussein's new pro-Western regime is in fact playing an historic role.

A wrong decision by Cedric Seager, or rejection by his superiors of sound recommendations from Seager, can quite easily lead onwards to a decisive and fatal Western defeat in the whole Middle East. A right decision cannot be guaranteed, alas, to save either the Middle East or Jordan. But at least a right decision will be an important step on the long, rough road toward a safer situation in this strategically vital area.

There are two sets of reasons for the portentousness of the role which history, perhaps a little ironically, has suddenly conferred upon this blameless but obscure Washington bureaucrat.

The first set of reasons relate to Jordan's new position in the general Middle Eastern scene. Little Jordan is the real key to Iraq, and Iraq is in turn the key to all those countries of the Middle East on which the strength of the West depends. Let Jordan fall into the hands of the Egyptian-led Arab extremists and their Communist allies, Iraq and the oil Sheikdoms of the Gulf coast and even Saudi Arabia will successively go the same way too.

Jordan's internal situation contains the second set of reasons for waiting for Cedric Seager's verdict with a certain breathlessness. As yet — the fact had better be faced — young King Hussein's brilliant victory over the pro-Egyptians and their Communist allies is both temporary and precarious.

A large majority of Jordan's present population is composed of Arab refugees from Israel and the people of the province of the West bank of the Jordan River that formed part of Palestine before Israel was created. Among these naturally embittered people, the Egyptian, Syrian and Communist agents find a warm response. If you wonder why so many are responsive, go look at the filthy shanty towns here in Amman where many thousands of refugees eke out the customary existence of this population of the living dead.

Then too, besides containing this huge potentially explosive element, little Jordan is a poor country with an impoverished government. Even the famous Arab Legion, the essential support of King Hussein's throne, has always been paid for with foreign subsidies, first British and now in theory Arab sub-

Baering Down on The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Would like to be down Hampton Roads way today. Fleets of twenty nations go bobbing-for-apples. Navies aren't so obsolete that we didn't send one to the Near East in the spring.

Last time I was down there was with Josephus Daniels.

Josephus took us along to dedicate the Cape Charles-Norfolk ferry-boat. Real reason was to gander the German raiders chased into wet dock by the English fleet.

The raiders were converted North German Lloyders. They were onion-skinned liners as vulnerable as candy canes on a Christmas tree.

Never forget a sailor swabbing the deck in his regulation bare feet. He wore a monocle in his right eye. He kept swabulating in front of a padlocked cabin. On the door was the hospitable sign "Beri Beri."

The sign kept the Washington newspapermen out and saved the Kronprinsess Cecilie's liquor supply. Anybody who spells German better can correct my nomenclature.

About that time in 1915 when they asked Sam Bernard if he spoke German he replied in perfect broken English, "Fluently, but not lately."

Forty-odd years ago and it seems like yesterday. Naturally, this time the precision fliers will top the list. We hear history paging Billy Mitchell. (Distributed by INS)

FPC Chairman Kuykendall Played Footsie With Utility Lobbyists

By Drew Pearson

little consumers. Cocktails And Free Trips

1. He made a grand tour of the Southwest, expenses paid by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. This is unprecedented. Members of the Federal Power Commission never take trips at the expense of any utility. Consumers aren't organized to take them on trips to counter-balance this, and shouldn't, even if they could afford it. Commissioners aren't supposed to keep aloof from both sides.

Accompanying Chairman Kuykendall on this trip were Seaborn Digby, another Eisenhower-appointed commissioner, and Nelson Lee Smith, a Republican holdover. Commissioner Dale Doty, a Democratic appointee, and Claude Draper, a GOP commissioner of the old school, declined to go.

FPC Commissioner Willard Gatchell had ear trouble and couldn't fly. So the gas company hosts took the trouble and expense of supplying him with special auto transportation.

2. Chairman Kuykendall attended a cocktail party given in his honor by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Morley, of the law firm of Wheat, May & Shannon, which represents the West Coast Transmission Co., then applying for a certificate from the FPC.

3. He attended two dinners given by Ed Falck, astute lobbyist for Niagara Mohawk Power, Consolidated Edison, Delaware Power and Light, and a dozen others.

4. He went out to Chicago to attend the National Association of Railroad and Utility Executives dinner. The government paid his expenses. In the past, FPC commissioners kept strictly aloof from these partisan meetings. Using the taxpayers' money to attend was unheard of.

5. Kuykendall waited two days after Congress adjourned in 1955 to announce a decision to turn much-sought Hell's Canyon over to the Idaho Power Co. Some Senators, including Kefauver of Tennessee, claim Kuykendall deliberately deceived Congress when he implied shortly before Congress adjourned that no action had been taken on Hell's Canyon. They say it had been taken earlier, but held until after Congress adjourned.

6. Senators also claim that Kuykendall lied when he told the joint Atomic Energy Committee that Power Commission attorneys had not reviewed the Dixon-Yates contract. Later his general counsel, Willard Gatchell, let slip the fact that it had come before the commission's at-turns. Real fact was that two FPC attorneys, Lambert McAllister and Howard Warrenbrock had vigorously condemned the Dixon-Yates contract—probably why Kuykendall denied anyone had ever seen it.

7. Chairman Kuykendall has now admitted holding secret meetings with three natural gas lobbyists to draft a gas bill. No representative of the public was present. His job is to pass on these matters impartially between the public and the utilities after they become law, not meet secretly with lobbyists to help pass the law.

Under cross-examination Kuykendall admitted: "I went to three individuals, and I admonished these individuals there should be no publicity about this. There should be absolute secrecy."

That's the record of the man who has just been reappointed to be an impartial chairman of the Federal Power Commission and who is up for Senate confirmation this week.

Army Specialist 3/c William Girard has persuaded Cong. Charlie Boyle of Chicago, Democrat, to champion his case at the Pentagon to keep him out of a Japanese courtroom. Girard is not from Chicago, but his own Congressman, Noah Mason, a Republican, feels he has to support the Defense Department. . . .

Girard may be getting a lucky break. Japanese courts have a record of giving light sentences to American GIs. American courts martial are usually tougher. . . .

Cong. Glenn Davis of Wisconsin is considered the best bet to win the Republican primary for Joe McCarthy's seat on July 26. Davis will flail away at the Eisenhower budget on foreign aid. Ex-Governor Walter Kohler, Eisenhower Republican, will probably pull his punches on the budget. . . .

The final election to pick McCarthy's successor is on August 13. The Democrats figure they have a pretty good chance, especially if livewire Congressman Henry Reuss is nominated. . . .

GOP Old Guarders are complaining that Citizens for Eisenhower, now active again, might better be called "Citizens for Gruenther." GOP scouts report that the "Citizens" are trying to start a grass roots boom for General Al Gruenther to be Ike's successor. . . .

Gen. Lucius Clay; Sidney Weinberg, the big investment banker; Oveta Culp Hobby, formerly in the Eisenhower Cabinet; and Tom Stephens, formerly in the White House, are credited with spearheading the Gruenther campaign.

Then before all they stand—the holy vow
And ring of gold — no fond illusions

Doubling his pleasures, his cares dividing.

City Managers, guardians of municipal expenditures, are reported to be cutting down expenditures and saving money for over 300 cities in the United States. Perhaps we should have a "Country Manager" in Washington, D. C. Should be worth a trial. How about campaigning for it using the slogan: "A Billion Saved Is A Billion Earned"?

HORSES AND WOMEN

Anita Loos, who wrote "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," is a brunette. As you know she wrote a sequel to the aforementioned classic titled "But They Marry Brunettes." The records of recent matrimonial alliances indicate that brunettes are preferred as brides. Blondes are in second place. Redheads are third. Why this is so I cannot say at this time. Perhaps the average bachelor is afraid of redheads. I have asked our Horses and Women experts to check this amazing situation.

SIDELIGHTS

What were you doing when you were 14 years old? I was still struggling to graduate from good old P.S. No. 2 in Brooklyn. When W. F. "Buffalo Bill" Cody was 14 years old he was a regular rider for the pony express. . . . Another set of triplets named Tom, Dick and Harry are the sons of Police Lieut. Arnold Krance of Des Plaines, Ill. By the way, does anybody know a pair of boy and girl twins named Adam and Eve?

SO THEY SAY

Virgo (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) men have a highly developed sense of humor. However, men born under Virgo are rarely romantic or demonstrative. Their wives get more laughs than loving. Males born under Libra (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) are the best dancers. They have rhythm. The worst "wolves" of the Zodiac are the Leo (July 23-Aug. 23) men. It was probably a Leo who originated the idea of a man inviting a simple, trusting female to his apartment to see his etchings. Or, so say the stargazers.

ADVICE

Bernard Baruch, who by brilliant speculation in stocks, acquired $15 million before he was 40 years of age once said, "The time to buy is when the market is low, everyone is talking pessimistically, and no hope is in sight. Sell when the market has had a long rise and is hesitating with everybody in a frenzy of optimism."

ASIDES

How is your enunciation? Give it a trial. If you can say "Six thick thistle sticks" six times in quick succession without making an error in pronunciation your enunciation can be said to be in good working order. A popular song that might do very well if revived is the one by Ernest Ball titled "To Have, To Hold, To Love."

APPLE A DAY

Who originated the slogan "An apple a day keeps the doctor away"? He seems to have been in possession of something. Mrs. Margaret Roope of Torquay, England, who lived to be 99 years old, ate two pounds of apples a day for 60 years.

Many Irritants May Produce Hand Eruptions

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many individuals develop miniature blisters on the hands varying in size from a pinpoint to a B-B shot. At one time fungal and yeast infections were blamed for these outbreaks but now we know there are many causes ranging from sensitivity to the plastic material in a steering wheel to ringworm infection of the toes.

In some instances the origin is obvious, whereas in others, months may elapse before it is found. During this time the lesions may come and go but their location, timing, and intensity are influenced by many factors, including friction, climate, psyche, and stigmas (spots or impressions on the skin).

The hands react to infections elsewhere in the body. The person with ringworm of the feet, for example, may be doing well when, without warning, myriads of tiny blisters appear on the palmar aspect of the fingers and hands. No micro-organisms exist in these blisters, even though they can be demonstrated in the lesions of the feet.

This type of dermatitis is an allergic manifestation called "an Id reaction." It follows not only athlete's foot but bacterial infections, especially in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses, cervix, or prostate. Unless the original source is removed, the lesions will remain on the hands.

In the summer time, blisters of this kind may be due to blocked sweat ducts, with retention of fluid. The condition is related to prickly heat. It is aggravated by warmth, emotional stress, and stimulants such as coffee, spices, and alcohol.

Tiny vesicles on the hands may be due to contact dermatitis; the individual touches a substance to which he is sensitive. Poison ivy is the best example but formaldehyde or turpentine is capable of producing the same form of outbreak. There are so many other irritants it is not always easy to discover the particular offender.

Clues are obtained from the victim's occupation and the site of the blisters. Paint solvents, metals, and plastics are suspected whenever a person works with these substances. In teachers, colored chalk is suspected, whereas hair tonics bother barbers. Dentists may react to novocain. There is no end to the contactants for the housewife because she handles everything from disinfectants to onions.

Poultrymen Will Convene In Moorefield

State Convention To Start July 31

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — July 31 and August 1-2 are the dates for this year's West Virginia poultry convention, which will be held here again under the auspices of the West Virginia Poultry Association.

An attractive program has been planned for the sessions, according to Harold M. Hyre, associate poultry husbandman at West Virginia University, who is publicity committee chairman for the event. Among the activities of the lighter vein will be the beauty pageant and the crowning of the poultry queen and broiler king. This part of the program will take place the evening of Wednesday, July 31. The Poultry Festival Parade will be at 6 p. m., Thursday, August 1, and the giant chicken barbecue will be featured the evening of Friday, August 2. The Queen's Ball will start at 9 p. m., August 2. All events will operate on Eastern Standard Time, Hyre pointed out.

The annual business meetings of the state poultry association will be held the afternoon of Wednesday, July 31. Jack Rudolph, Internont, Hampshire County, president, will be in charge of the meeting of the West Virginia Poultry Association, and James Duckworth, Lewisburg, Greenbrier County, president of the West Virginia Poultry Improvement Association, will conduct the hatcherymen's meeting.

The educational phase of the program will be held on August 1-2 with some interesting subjects for discussion, Hyre cited. "Essentials of Poultry Housing" will be the topic of Dr. A. D. Longhouse, head of the department of agricultural engineering, West Virginia University. "A Look to the Future of the Poultry Industry in West Virginia" will be discussed by Dr. Homer Patrick of the University of Tennessee. Other topics will include "Vertical Integration in the Poultry Industry," "Breeding the Future Turkey," "Performance of Cage Versus Floor Layers," "Extra Dollars From Your Broiler Breeders," and "Will They Be Purebreds, Incrosses, or Strain Crosses?"

All interested persons are invited to attend these meetings, Hyre said.

FROSTBURG—Contracts were signed at a meeting of the board of directors of Miners Hospital Monday night for several major projects on the two floors of the old building.

One contract calls for the re-painting of the entire interior and the exterior trim of the old building. The second contract authorizes the laying of asphalt and plastic tile flooring, over plywood underlayment in all of the hallways, rooms and wards in the old section of the hospital. This will eliminate the unsightly and hard to clean floors in the entire building.

Both of the projects are scheduled to be started within the next two weeks.

Contractors have also been requested to submit bids on the grading, surfacing and blacktopping of a large parking area adjacent to the hospital, which, when completed, will accommodate 35 cars. This will eliminate the necessity of visitors parking their cars in the mud, which has created a major housekeeping problem at the hospital in wet weather.

High Court Reverses Mineral Co.

Directs Dismissal Of Munday Charge

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 11.—The State Supreme Court today set aside Ralph Munday's conviction in Mineral County for receiving stolen goods and directed the trial court to dismiss the indictment against him.

In a unanimous opinion, President Judge James B. Riley wrote that the indictment was defective because it did not comply with this requirement:

"An indictment for the statutory offense of receiving stolen goods must allege the name of the person from whom the accused received such goods, or that such person is to the grand jury unknown."

Mineral Circuit Court has held the indictment to be valid under a section of statute dealing with receipt of goods stolen in another state.

But Judge Riley wrote that the indictment was defective under that section because it failed to allege that the property "was stolen in another state, or, having been stolen in another state, it was brought into this state."

Munday and his brother James were jointly indicted on a charge of having received $200 worth of steam valves and brass, although knowing that the goods had been stolen from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Their cases were separated for trial. Ralph Munday was convicted and sentenced to one to two years in the State Penitentiary. Prosecution of James Munday was dropped.

Shelby Is Winner Golfers On Streak
By C. V. BURNS

RONALD "Butch" Young, Valley High School's three sports star, who was graduated last week, is regarded as the best all around athlete to come out of Barton since the days of the fabulous Ernie Schramm 30 years ago.

Schramm was a four sports star at Barton High School, excelling in basketball, soccer, track and baseball.

Young, a 5-foot-9, 145-pounder, has played on Valley High School soccer, basketball and baseball teams for four years.

The "Pride of Temperance Row" played on two state Class "B" championship teams (1956 and 1957) and one state semi-finalist (1955). "Butch" amassed a grand total of 946 points in four seasons. This year he led the W. M. I. League with 199 points as the Black Knights tied Allegany for championship honors. He scored 415 points in all games, including 80 in four district and state contests. His four-year W. M. I. League total is 377.

Ronnie was on four consecutive county championship soccer teams, led the league in scoring in 1955 with nine goals, booted 12 goals for runner-up honors in 1956 and racked up 27 markers in four seasons.

His four-year high school batting average is a respectable .343 at Valley High. This year he was runner-up to the champion with a mark of .457 and hit .340 in 1956.

In addition to playing an infield position, Young worked on the rubber and turned in an 11-10 record.

"Young is a great competitor and we're sure going to miss him," Coach John Meyers remarked the other day.

Meyers expressed the opinion that Young is one of the most versatile athletes he ever has coached.

CARROLL SHELBY, of Dallas Texas, winner of the feature race in the Cumberland Classic, Sunday, May 19, at the airport, romped home the victor in another big sports car race last Sunday at Lime Rock, Conn., before 10,000 spectators.

Shelby finished ahead of Walter Hansen and Charley Wallace in the headliner here. He copped the run for the Sports Car Club of America points in New England by covering the 40 laps on the twisting 1.2 mile course with an average speed of 80 miles per hour. There were 14 entries. Carroll drove a three liter Maserati.

Lake Underwood, South Orange, N. J., who won the J. Glenn Beall trophy by taking the third race here last month, was second to Shelby at Lime Rock. He was at the wheel of a Porsche.

Hansen, who hails from Westfield, N. J., hung on only four seconds behind Shelby for 30 laps then he ran into fuel injection trouble believed to have been caused by dust raised on the shoulders of the road. Walt finished fourth back of John Fitch of New York. Paul O'Shea and Briggs Cunningham, who appeared in the Cumberland races, were 7th and 9th, respectively.

AL MARTIN, umpiring in the Southwestern League, writes from El Paso, Texas, that he is having a good year and has a good partner in the person of Bill Gentry of Denver, Colo. Gentry is a graduate of the late Bill McGowan's Umpiring School and has three years of officiating experience.

The Cumberlander states that the long rainy season that we have been reading about in the

THE men's golf team of the Cumberland Country Club has won seven consecutive matches since its last defeat at the hands of Uniontown, Pa., on the latter's course July 18, 1956. The score of that one was 14½ to 12½ points.

Two wins over North Fork of Johnstown and single victories over Kingwood and Somerset closed out the 1956 campaign for the triple "C" linksmen.

This year the Christie Roaders have bowled over Hagerstown, North Fork and Morgantown.

Seven matches remain on the schedule, two each with Kingwood and Uniontown and single matches with Maplehurst, Martinsburg and North Fork.

New Yorkers Pull Within Four Games Of League Leaders

CHICAGO, June 11 (P)—Mickey Mantle's 16th homer of the season in the first inning started the New York Yankees to a 3-2 victory tonight over the Chicago White Sox and pulled the world champions within four games of the league leading Chicagoans.

A crowd of 49,411—largest in the majors this season—saw tempers flare in a pair of disputed plays, both of which went against the Yankees.

Mantle's homer—an upper deck shot—touched off a two-run first inning. Mantle also doubled in the fifth inning and rode home on Bill Skowron's two-out single to provide the margin of victory.

Braves Still Make Bid For Schoendienst

NEW YORK, June 11 (P)—The Milwaukee Braves, apparently convinced they erred in turning down an opportunity to acquire Red Schoendienst last March, now are making a strong bid for the New York Giants' star second baseman, it was learned today.

According to one who should know, Milwaukee General Manager John Quinn has offered pitcher Ray Crone, outfielder Wes Covington and infielder Danny O'Connell to the Giants for Schoendienst and outfielder Don Mueller.

Both Quinn and Chub Feeney, vice-president of the Giants, denied that a transaction between the two clubs was on the fire but both admitted they had talked about the possibility of a trade.

Thomson Jinx Beats Brooks

Bobby's Grand Slam Homer Decides, 7-2

BROOKLYN, June 11 (P)—Bobby Thomson, an old hand at killing the Dodgers, unloaded a grand slam home run tonight as the Milwaukee Braves romped to a 7-2 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The victory hoisted the Braves within a half game and four percentage points of first place Cincinnati, beaten at Pittsburgh. Joe Adcock also walloped a home run in the Braves' 11-hit attack on loser Roger Craig and two relievers. But it was Thomson's bases-loaded shot into the left field stands that got the job done as Milwaukee broke a 1-all tie with five runs in the fifth.

It was the fourth home run of the season and the eighth career grand slammer for Thomson, who hit that 1951 home run that gave the New York Giants a pennant playoff victory over Brooklyn. Milwaukee . . . 100 050 100—7 11 0

Losers Pull Triple Play; Cling To Lead By Only Five Points

PITTSBURGH, June 11 (P)—The Cincinnati Redlegs pulled the first triple play of the National League season tonight but it went for naught as the Pittsburgh Pirates, back of the 5-hit pitching of righthander Bob Purkey, trounced the league leaders 8-1.

The defeat left Cincinnati four percentage points ahead of Milwaukee. The Braves went into second place by beating Brooklyn 7-2.

The Pirates collected 13 hits off five Redleg hurlers and six were for extra bases — two triples and four doubles. The defeat was charged to Don Gross, losing his third against four victories.

Purkey has a 5-4 record. The victory was the first of his major league career over the Redlegs who have beaten him four times.

Phillies Lose, 5-2, Before 23,888 Fans

PHILADELPHIA, June 11 (P)—Alvin Dark smashed a double and three singles and catcher Hal Smith a home run and triple as the onrushing St. Louis Cardinals made it seven in a row with a 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies before 23,888 fans at Connie Mack Stadium tonight.

Aside from the Cards' victory in the red hot National League pennant race, highlight of the night from a St. Louis standpoint was the appearance of first baseman Stan Musial in his 822nd consecutive game.

Musial tied the National League record for consecutive games played, set by former Pittsburgh first baseman Gus Suhr from Sept. 11, 1931, to June 4, 1937.

Little Murry Dickson, 40, the hurler dealt to the Cards by the Phillies last year, checked his former teammates with seven hits, striking out five and walking two for his third victory against two defeats this season. Weather Could Make Open Golf Free-For-All

Rain Washes Out Toledo Practice

By WILL GRIMSLEY

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 11 (AP)—National Open golf contenders kept an ear tuned to weather forecasts today after a blustery rain storm washed out morning practice at the Inverness Club.

Oldsters recalled how a gale, called the worst storm in the history of the tournament, swept the course during the final round in 1920 and robbed Britain's 50-year-old Harry Vardon of a title which went to his fellow countryman, Ted Ray.

"Storms like that or even clearing and high winds could turn this thing into a wide-open free-for-all," commented former champion Julius Boros of Southern Pines, N. C.

The forecast is for more showers tomorrow and clearing Thursday, the day of the tournament opening, but there was no assurance that the skies might not bust a few more seams before Saturday's double round windup.

Masters champion Doug Ford, the year's leading money winner and with veterans Ben Hogan and Sam Snead a prime favorite for the $7,200 first money, said a siege of bright sunshine and course-drying wind might prove as disastrous as heavy rains.

"If these greens were to dry off they would be almost impossible to putt properly," Ford added. "They're like glass already. If they get any harder they won't hold a pitch and we'll be worrying about four-putting instead of three-putting."

Even Peter Thomson of Australia, the British Open champion whose game is hardened to adverse conditions, said he hoped for a fair weekend.

"The course plays plenty long already," commented the Aussie. "If we get the fairways spongy it won't be possible to reach some of the par four holes in two."

Wins 5th Straight Stake Race; 1957 Winnings $38,467

OCEANPORT, N. J., June 11 (AP)—River Divide Farm's Decathlon blazed 6 furlongs in 1:08 2/5 today to win the $16,450 Oceanport Handicap, feature of Monmouth Park's opening-day program before 18,085.

Decathlon, in winning his fifth straight stakes, carried 130 pounds with Jockey Willie Hartack, as he gamely staved off Brookfield Farm's Itobe by three quarters of a length. Itobe was two and a half lengths in advance of Montpelier's Nahodah in the seven horse field.

The world record of 1:08 1/5 for 6 furlongs was established by Bolero, carrying 122 pounds, on May 27, 1950, at Golden Gate Fields.

Decathlon, a 4-year-old son of Olympia, showed in front at the start of this 11th running of the Oceanport, held a two length lead after a quarter and then was challenged by Itobe, ridden by Sam Boulmetis, at the quarter pole.

Although pressed throughout the stretch drive by the Brookfield representative, Decathlon, under hard urging, came into the wire with a daylight advantage.

Decathlon increased his earnings by $10,517.50 and ran his 1957 winnings to $38,467.50. His lifetime earnings over a three year span now total $211,824.50.

In posting his third successive victory this year, Decathlon paid $3.60, $2.60 and $2.20 across-the-board. Itobe returned $3.80 and $2.20 while Nahodah, with Jockey Joe Culmone up, was $2.20 for show.

Hartack, who flew from Miami to ride the speedy Decathlon, said: "Decathlon really had to run today. I had to dig into him a couple of times. He's a real game one, all right, and he proved it today."

The nation's leading rider scored his 22nd stakes victory of 1957 in winning the Oceanport. The national stakes-winning record for a single season was established by Jockey Eddie Arcaro in 1952 with 40.

Basilio Has Signed Pact With Norris For Title Fight

ITHACA, N.Y., June 11 (AP)—The co-managers of welterweight champion Carmen Basilio threatened today to scrap the proposed middleweight title fight between Basilio and Sugar Ray Robinson, Joe Netro and Johnny DeJohn blasted efforts of other promoters to "get into the act" of promoting the fight.

They said they had signed a contract with James D. Norris of the International Boxing Club to stage the fight in Yankee Stadium in September.

A Philadelphia city councilman, Samuel Rose, said yesterday he had offered Robinson $200,000 for a title defense against Basilio in Philadelphia in September.

Rose said he had offered Basilio, of Canastota, a guarantee of $125,000 or 25 per cent of the net gate for the fight.

Blessing Of Fleet Set For June 22

The second annual mass blessing of the fleet to be held Saturday, June 22, at 5 p. m., in Deale, Md., has been announced by the Western Shore of the Chesapeake Bay Chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America.

Last year's blessing attracted 5,000 persons.

The blessing of boats and fishermen dates back to pre-Christian times when the Egyptians celebrated the blessing of the Nile and other peoples had similar rites.

Tarpon Springs, Fla., started blessing the fleet over 50 years ago. Gloucester, Mass., has an annual blessing on a large scale.

Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 11 (INS)—Give Alan Ladd one of those steady-eyed, stiff-upper lip detective or western roles, and he's at his best. And this is exactly what he's getting in "The Chiselers," the Albert Conroy novel in which he'll play a detective in today's modern crime jungle for Joe Pasternak and Sam Katz at Columbia.

It's a story right up Alan's street—a "Boy On A Dolphin" was not. Despite the fact that Alan didn't like this movie any better than some of his critics, he should weep. He made $275,000 cold cash from it plus making love to Sophia Loren.

About "The Chiselers," Alan says, "It's the best crime story I've had since 'Gun For Hire'—the hit which started Alan on the road to fame."

Dean Martin telephoned me from Pittsburgh, jubilant that he had raised close to $900,000 for the multiple sclerosis drive in New York. While he was in Pittsburgh, he also went on a television to raise money. What Dean didn't tell me himself was that he so endeared himself to people that they stopped him on the streets to thank him.

He has finally decided to join Marlon Brando and Monty Clift in "The Young Lion," and he'll leave for Europe on the 18th to start the picture. He has turned down offers as high as $20,000, but he feels this role is right for him.

Rosemary Clooney and Jose Ferrer return from London the end of this week where Jose has finished the Dreyfus story, "I Accuse." Rosie will come to the coast to see the children, but Jose will headquarter in New York to start rehearsals for his Broadway musical, "Captain's Paradise."

Jose will write the book with Al Morgan, who authored "The Great Man," and Rosemary has been asked by the producers to play one of the femme leads. She won't be able to do any rehearsing until after the birth of her third baby in the early fall.

Mary Fickett, who impressed me as Bing Crosby's divorced wife in "Man On Fire," will be a real-life bride in five weeks when she finishes "Christmas In Paradise" at U-I. She's flying to New York to marry stage actor Alan Shayne, whose biggest Broadway break was the male lead in "Mad Woman of Chailot." He's also toured with the Katharine Cornell and Maurice Evans repertoire companies.

Bride or not, something tells me that Mary will be back in Hollywood before long. The boys at U-I say she's every bit as good

Eagle Attacks Girl

ROME, June 11 (AP)—A huge eagle tried to carry off 5-year-old Maria Rosa Dauriz near Trento in the mountains of northern Italy, says the Ansa News Agency. The eagle caught her in its claws but was driven off by her grandfather Fedele Gasperi.

Tour Of Red China

KARACHI, June 11 (AP)—A 10-man delegation from Pakistan's Parliament will make a three-week tour of Communist China beginning June 19 at the invitation of Peking authorities.

Lineman Dies After Fall From Pole

Glenn Liller, 28, Plunges 35 Feet Near Romney, W. Va.

A 28-year-old West Virginia power lineman died yesterday after he fell approximately 35 feet from a high tension pole while working at the Romney Junction substation about 10 miles south of Romney.

Glenn Liller of Purgitsville died at 7:25 p. m. in Memorial Hospital. He had multiple fractures and internal injuries that paralyzed him from the waist down. He had been admitted about 6 p. m. after falling from the pole shortly before 5 o'clock.

G. E. Noll, district manager of the Potomac Light and Power Company of West Virginia at Romney, said Mr. Liller was part of a transmission construction crew of five which was beginning to put high tension conduction lines on the 65-foot wooden structure at the Junction.

The work is the beginning of the transmission line being erected by the power company from the Junction to Millville.

Witnesses to the accident said Mr. Liller was working about halfway up the two-pole structure and apparently, either while awaiting some equipment or in attempting to shift his position on the pole, slipped and plunged 35 feet to the ground.

He was brought to Memorial Hospital in an ambulance and attendants there said he was in "very critical" condition when admitted. He died soon after.

Mr. Noll stated that Mr. Liller's safety belt was not broken and it appeared he may have unfastened it in attempting to shift his position on the pole. What caused him to slip and fall, construction crew members were unable to say.

Mr. Liller is survived by his widow.

State And Area Morticians Hold Conclave Here

Dr. Russell Fisher, Baltimore, chief medical examiner for the State of Maryland, was the principal speaker last night at the meeting here of state and Tri-State area funeral directors.

Some 50 officers and members of the Maryland State Funeral Directors, and the Tri-State, Eastern Panhandle and Somerset County funeral directors attended the meeting held in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Representing the state association, which held its quarterly meeting during the Cumberland visit, were Charles E. Schimunek, president; Frank H. Newell, first vice president; J. Edwin Elaine, second vice president, and Charles E. Delosier, all of Baltimore. With them were about 15 members from the Baltimore area.

The Tri-State Funeral Directors Association was represented by Bryon Kight, president; John O. Durst, secretary-treasurer, and 15 members.

Heading the Eastern Panhandle association delegation were Blaine Schaffer, Petersburg, president, and Keith Shaffer, Romney, secretary-treasurer. The Somerset County delegation of 11 included Camden Meek, Johnstown, Pa., president; Walter Johnston, Berlin, secretary, and Walter Hoffman, Somerset, treasurer.

During the business meeting a discussion was held on legislation affecting the profession by the 1957 General Assembly.

Dr. Fisher showed slides illustrating legal pathology and told how medical examiners and pathologists through the state co-operate with law enforcement officials.

Guests were Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, and Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, pathologist for Allegany County.

City Collects 91 Per Cent Of Its Levy

Spending Runs Five Points Under Par

The City of Cumberland wound up the 11th month of its fiscal year on May 31 with over 91 per cent of its levy in and with spending running about five points below par, according to a report by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

As June began, collections totaled $1,517,868.64, which represented 91.23 per cent of the $1,654,530 budget.

This left $155,576.17 still to come in to meet the amount levied, minus collections of $19,014.81 in excess of the levy.

Some sources of income will go over the estimate, others are expected to come out about right and general will be short of expectations.

Excess collections include $3,677 from police fines, $699.82 from the city scales, $111.76 from state admission tax and $14,526.23 from the tax levy. Collections Are Up

Mr. Gibson said collections on the tax levy totaled $1,191,826.23, which is 1.23 per cent over. The increase, he said, chiefly reflects new assessments placed by the State Tax Commission and represent increased corporation assessments for the year.

With everything expected in receipts from state racing income totaled $41,456.20, which is $6,543.71 short of expectations.

Mr. Gibson said the city's share of state income taxes, now $37,692.66, is $12,307.34 short and "may be all in."

He explained that the state has changed its formula for forwarding shares from income taxes, since refunds may have to be made on collections from withholding taxes. Previously the money was paid quarterly.

The major fund still uncollected is $61,499.62 from state gas and auto taxes, which is being withheld by the State Roads Commission in connection with the Frederick Street and Thruway projects.

$50,000 Expected
Expected to come in before the end of the fiscal year on June 30 is the $50,000 payment from the B & O in connection with the closing of the Williams Street crossing.

The biggest cloud in the budget picture is the possibility that even if all the funds levied come in, the surplus plus the $50,000 from the B & O may not equal the $87,000 surplus which was on hand to start off the current budget.

Unless the last minute rush to buy equipment develops, there will be some funds left from appropriations for city operations.

As June began, various departments had spent $1,219,548.33, which represents 86.81 per cent of appropriations and is five points under par.

Left to operate during June was $186,118.29 and only one account was overdrawn.

Over was the City Hall appropriation by $840.87, but the fund for maintaining the Public Safety Building still had $1,924.19 on hand.

Most departments seemed to be operating within their budgets.

Barring unforeseen expenses, a spot check showed that over $25,000 may remain from various funds including accident awards, charter amendments, elections and registration and contingent

Civil Service Board Given Instructions

Getty Outlines Some Functions

The two chief jobs of the new Allegany County Civil Service Board, which will begin functioning Saturday, will be the certification of five eligible persons whenever a county job vacancy occurs and the conduct of a hearing for any employee against whom a charge may be brought.

Some of the details of the new County Merit System were explained to two of the three members of the Civil Service Board at a meeting with the Board of County Commissioners last night at the Court House.

Present were the two Republican members of the board, Woodward D. Pealer of this city and J. Glenn Beall Jr. of Frostburg. William L. Wilson, who will be the Democratic member of the board, was unable to attend last night's session because of a prior commitment in Westernport.

Getty Explains
Most of the explanation of the board duties was offered by Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the county commissioners.

Persons who will not come under the provisions of the merit system include elected officials of the county, the tax collectors, attorneys to the County Commissioners and the Board of Election Supervisors, the assistant state's attorney, persons appointed by the governor and those appointed by the judges of Circuit Court.

Specifically included are the deputies to the sheriff, the clerk to the trial magistrates in Cumberland and the clerk to the Board of County Commissioners, which is the one exception to the rule of not covering elected officials. James G. Stevenson was last elected clerk in November 1954.

Mr. Getty explained that most of the county department heads have prepared information for use of the Civil Service Board concerning the duties of jobs in their department.

Charges against any employee for incompetence or other reasons must be brought by the majority of the county commissioners or by all three. This was stated in answer to a question by Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson. A decision by the Civil Service Board may be appealed to Circuit Court.

In preparing a list of eligibles for any county job, the board is supposed to disregard religious and political affiliations, the county attorney said.

Until 1959
Mr. Getty cited that the present board is only a temporary one serving until the county commissioners' first meeting in April 1959. At that time one person will be appointed to the board for six years, another for four and the third one for two years. Thereafter each appointment will be for six years and the appointments run from the first meeting in April in each case.

The law passed by the General Assembly this year creating the merit system specifies that the board shall meet at least once a month on the first Wednesday and each member will receive $300 a year in compensation.

Wallace G. Ullery, the city clerk, has offered to assist the county in the preparation of job classifications. The actual establishment of job classifications and pay scales rests with the county commissioners.

Then too in the appointment of persons to fill a job they are only required to select from among five eligibles.

In the course of the discussion of the bill, Commissioner Wilkinson cited the specific case of Miss Jeanette Barrett, former stenographer to the county commissioners, who was demoted to clerk in the assessing department after the 1954 election. Mr. Getty said this no longer can be done after June 15, when the merit system takes effect.

Car Dispute Enters New Court Round

Mrs. Walters' Auto Figures Again

Another round in the dispute over Mrs. Myrtle W. Walters' automobile opened yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

William Gulick, trading as Gulick's Auto Exchange, 327 South Centre Street, brought a $2,500 damage suit against Charles Walters, now an inmate in the Maryland House of Correction, and Mrs. Anna A. McGann, 11 Washington Street, Frostburg.

The suit, filed by Attorney John M. Robb, states that on January 28 Walters sold to Gulick a 1953 model automobile, for which he received $1,000 and a 1951 model automobile. The title appeared to have been properly assigned by Mrs. Myrtle H. Walters to her husband and was duly notarized. Gulick later discovered that Walters had obtained title to the car illegally.

Mrs. McGann was cited in the suit for allegedly notarizing the title without the presence of Mrs. Walters, as is required by law.

Walters was charged with forgery upon his return from Florida in February and on March 6 was sentenced by Chief Judge George Henderson to four years in the Maryland House of Correction.

A replevin action later was brought by Mrs. Walters to recover her 1955 model car from Gulick. On May 28, Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris entered a judgement in favor of Mrs. Walters.

Also filed yesterday was an appeal from the State Industrial Accident Commission which was removed to Allegany County from Washington County on order of Associate Judge D. K. McLaughlin.

In that case Commissioner R. Duncan Clark had ruled that Paul R. Cook of Chewsville was temporarily partially disabled and permanently partially disabled as a result of being struck in the left eye by the butt of a welding rod March 9, 1955. Soreness did not develop in his eye for 14 months and it then was discovered that he had a detached retina in his left eye.

Commissioner Clark ruled that Cook was temporarily totally disabled from September 29, 1956, until January 8, 1957. His permanent partial disability, which is total loss of vision in his left eye, was dated from January. He was to receive $25 a week for 160 weeks.

The appeal was taken by Pangborn Corporation, the employer, and Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, the insurer.

Direct Dialing Service Being Expanded Here

New Phone Service Effective July 14

Work is now under way on the expansion of direct distance dialing and the elimination of accidental toll calls, according to Robert G. Garner, local manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

Mr. Garner said effective July 14 this area will be added to the list of other Maryland communities that can be dialed from one and two-party telephones.

At the present time only a few cities and towns in the state can be reached by direct dialing. When the installation of new equipment is completed at the local dial center, 90 cities and towns in Maryland may be reached from Cumberland by direct dialing.

The additional equipment also will provide for direct dialing to 180 cities and towns in nine states.

Different methods will be used in dialing local and long distance numbers. Once the new equipment is put into use the only calls subscribers will dial on a two-letter, five-number basis will be those to Parkview 2 and 4, REDwood 8, ROger 7, Colony 4, DAVenport 4, and GREENleaf 8 telephones.

All other points (such as Hagerstown and Baltimore) will be reached by dialing a three-number area code before dialing the telephone number desired. The use of the three-number code number before all toll calls will eliminate the possibility of dialing a long distance number by mistake.

After the installation is completed, Mr. Garner said, it will be possible to call Frostburg direct by dialing 689.

The telephone company is working to standardize dialing procedures throughout Maryland. The additional work being done here will bring Cumberland and the area served by it into conformity with other places that now have direct distance dialing.

The work here on the new equipment which has been going on in the past few months is being done by Western Electric Company.

Man's Death Is Ruled Accident

A man who apparently tried to hop a freight train on the Western Maryland Railway in the vicinity of Greenville near Connellyville, Pa., and was accidentally killed, has been tentatively identified.

Lt. Bernard Bealky, of the Western Maryland's Western Division police force, said last night the victim, Felix Vinesky, 45, of Grindstone, Pa., was identified by a friend last night at a funeral home in Pittsburgh.

An eastbound Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railroad crew saw the body lying along the tracks and notified rail officials at Connellyville, yesterday morning.

George L. McIntyre, Somerset County coroner, ruled the man died accidentally of head injuries and shock suffered in the fall. He also sustained a fractured elbow and multiple lacerations.

The body is being held at the McIntyre Funeral Home, South Pittsburgh, for positive identification. It is reported that the victim has two sisters living in Pennsylvania.

Lt. Bealky is returning to Pittsburgh today to continue the investigation of the accident.

Chamber Urges Support For Canal Parkway

State Board Will Protest Program

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce yesterday urged a Senate sub-committee to approve Senate Bill 77 authorizing the construction of the scenic C & O Canal Parkway in Western Maryland.

The action was urged by Charles S. Catherman, Jr., president, in a message to Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, chairman of the sub-committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, which has scheduled a meeting in Washington today on the legislation proposed by U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall.

Plans for an official protest to the bill were announced yesterday by the Maryland Board of Natural Resources, which reaffirmed its previous stand against the construction of a federal highway along the canal route from Cumberland to Washington. Is Needed Link

Mr. Catherman said the proposed roadway from Paw Paw to Woodmont, together with the proposed widening and repaving by the Maryland State Roads Commission of Route 51 from Cumberland to Paw Paw, would provide Western Maryland with a sorely needed additional link to U. S. 40 at Hancock and to the East.

The combined road program, he said, will assure the future growth and expansion of a highly important industrial section and will, at the same time, provide tourists better access to the scenic attractions of the canal preserve.

These, he added, are important steps in opening the resources and preserving the historic landmarks of Western Maryland and the Potomac Valley.

Plans Protest

The board decided to voice an official protest on Senator Beall's bill to authorize construction of a "scenic parkway" connection between Maryland 51, near Paw Paw, W. Va., and the Long Ridge Road near Woodmont. The parkway connection would be part of the C&O National Historical Park.

Lester N. Townner of Towson said such a road would be an "iron curtain" between Marylanders and the Maryland-owned Potomac and would result in this state losing control of the river.

Representing the board at the 10 a. m. meeting will be William H. Bayliff, executive secretary of the board; Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the Department of Game and Inland Fish, and Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of Forests and Parks.

Has Alternate Plan

Kaylor said he will propose, as an alternate to Beall's plan, that the federal government return the canal to Maryland for the development of recreational and hunting areas. Hunting would be prohibited in a national park area.

Kaylor said there is no need for such a "winding" 136-mile route from Cumberland to Washington because the State Roads Commission has obtained federal aid for modernizing Route 40 between the two cities.

(Editor's note — No interstate federal funds have been authorized by the U. S. Bureau of Roads to improve Route 40 west of Hancock. Route 40 does not run to Washington. Federal funds for Route 40 do not cover the section between Hancock and Washington, Pa.)

Towner charged that federal ownership of the canal area is holding up development by industry in many areas along the Maryland side of the Potomac.

Kaylor said he expects representatives of civic, conservation and sportsmen organizations from Hagerstown, Frederick and Cumberland to join the board in opposing the Beall bill today.
